Recycling plan waits on study

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board came a step closer to implementing its recycling program by listening to a report from Al Little on the joint recycling venture proposed to be between the villages of Lindenhurst, Lake Villa and Antioch, along with Lake Villa and Antioch Twps.

At the same time, the board also authorized a village environmental study. The environmental study was approved at an executive session of the board.

Lynn Anderson, professional environmentalist, was hired by the board to do the study.

Mayor Robert Wilton said that he expected the study to be completed inside of two weeks. He added that no decision on whether or not Antioch will join the Lindenhurst venture will be made until after the board can consider the study.

Little, head of the Antioch Commission on the Environment, told the board that Lindenhurst needed 3,000 participants in its curbside recycling plan in order to get grant funding, and that's why Lindenhurst is hoping that the villages of Lake Villa and Antioch, as well as both townships join in the recycling plan.

Lindenhurst will be applying in February for the grants from the Ill. Dept. of Energy and Natural Resources and that village will go through with the present curbside recycling plan, whether or not it gets joint participation.

The natural resources department will pick-up 50 percent of the curbside recycling costs and the participants, 50 percent.

In the yard waste recycling plan, the pickup will be 70/30.

The curbside recycling plan will be a voluntary one, with a rebate for the recycled materials reverting back to the villages participating, amortized by the number of users.

The project will start after a three-month public hearing and education period.

Curbside pickups of 18 gallon containers containing glass, paper, aluminum cans and plastics will be on the same day as the garbage pick-up, with the vendors doing the sorting of materials to be recycled.

Pickups will cost up to $1.50 monthly for weekly service, with the containers costing $5 to $7.

Races crowd roads, sheriff tows 4 cars

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

When Denette Bihler and her family went to the motorcycle races on Lake Marie in Antioch last Sunday they didn't intend to walk home to Lake Villa.

But after watching the races for approximately 45 minutes, they found that their car had been towed by Herb's Towing under a citation from the Lake County Sheriff's Dept.

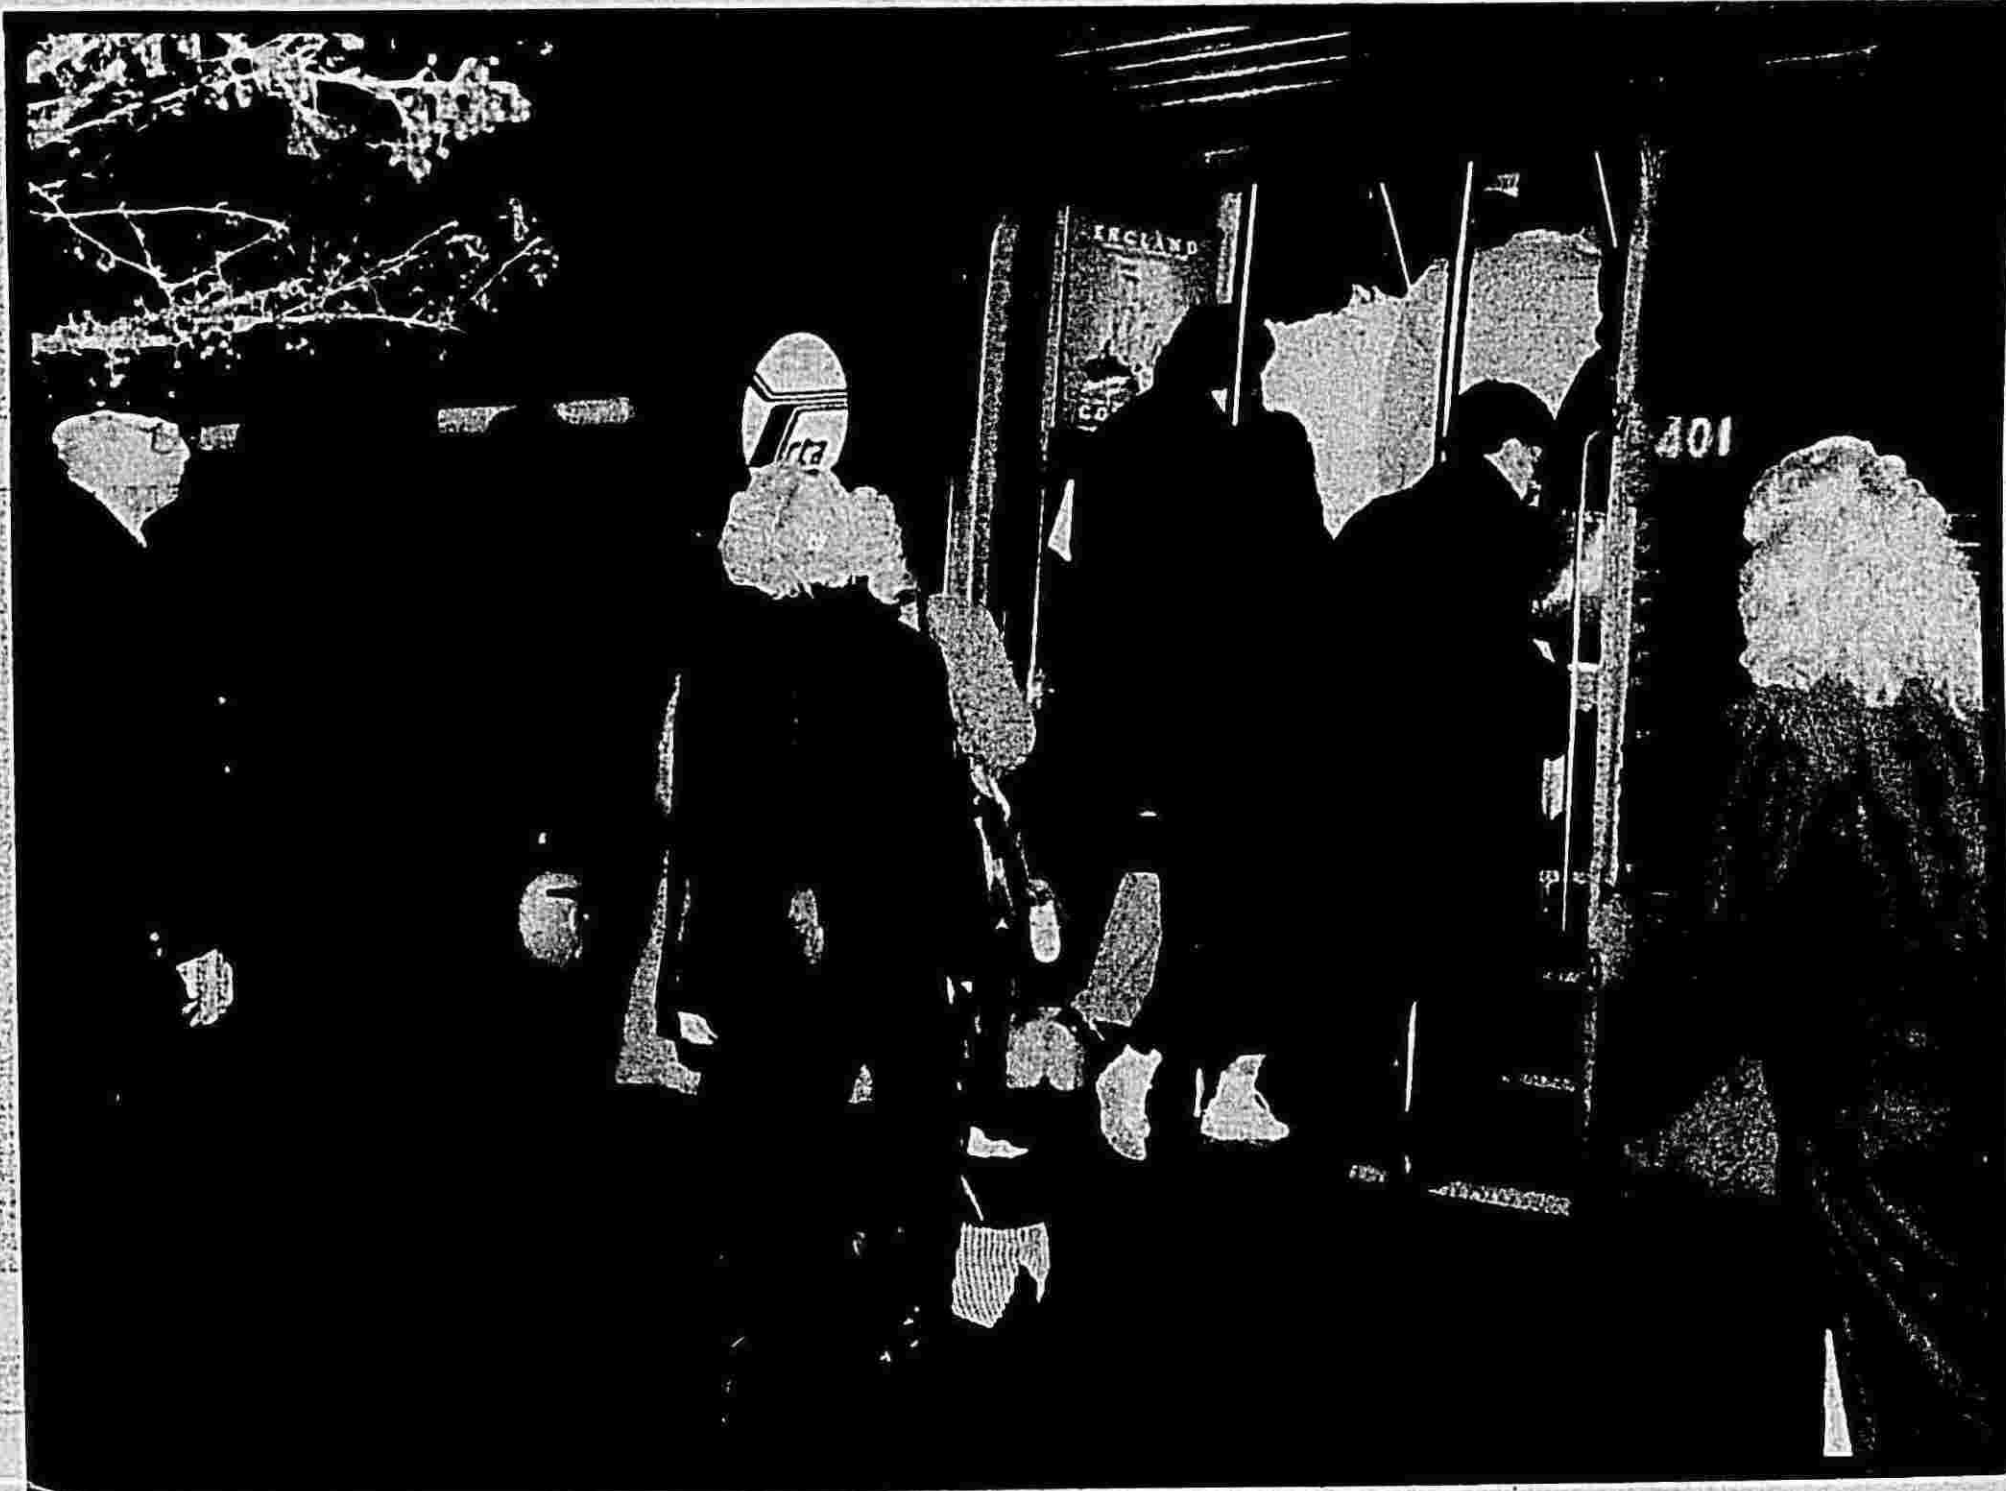

"We parked on a road where there were at least 30 other cars, saw no "no parking" signs, so we thought it was all right," says Bihler.

She adds that there were two sheriff's deputies behind them when they parked. "If we were parking illegally, why didn't they tell us at the time," she asks, adding that it was dark and cold to be on foot, especially with a child.

According to Lake County Sheriff's Hwy. Chief Terry Cashmore, there were four cars parked on Douglas Rd. that were towed because, "They were a traffic hindrance, in fact a rescue squad returning from a call was impeded by them."

The cars were towed after the management of the Sand Bar was talked to by the deputies and an announcement was (Continued on page 7)

Top cop's job open in village

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch is looking for a new police chief. Mayor Robert Wilton will be asking the police commission to assist him in reviewing applications for the top cop job expected to come from both inside and outside the department.

Wilton said he and the commission will be looking for the best qualified person for the job.

"I feel there is a lack of professionalism in the administration of the department and have also found some irregularities in the department's management," Wilton stated.

Wilton has shown his dissatisfaction with the restructuring of the police department, done under the Toft administration, by putting more policemen out on the street patrolling "where they belong," and returning both lieutenants to uniform.

"Chief Miller (present Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller) is free to apply like everyone else," added Wilton.

Commuting—gray dawn's vigil

Thousands of Lakeland Area residents ride the Metra train into downtown Chicago every day. With 95 percent of the commuters coming from suburbs, riding the train seems to be a more favorable choice among workers than fighting rush-hour traffic. Total ridership on Metra increased two percent from 1988 to 1989. Here, bundled up riders scurry through station to board train during pre-dawn hours.—Photo by Joe Shuman

Dam, Jeffrey at odds over rental subsidies

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

Dr. William Dam, former mayor of Fox Lake and now a grade school board member, and Alon Jeffrey, executive director of the Lake County Housing Authority, are at odds over how rental subsidies are dispensed.

Dam and Jeffrey clashed at a Fox Lake council meeting where the activist physician accused the LCHA of "targeting" Fox Lake with low income families that adversely impact the public schools with an "imbalance" of children with special education needs that must be paid for by local taxpayers.

The school board had to raise fees 50 percent to cover one-third of the children considered from low income families according to state guidelines, Dam asserted.

"We need to stop the subsidies. I'm asking LCHA to stop writing new contracts until a balance is reached. We're not against poor families, but there has to be a balance," declared Dam as he asked other county communities "to do their part."

Jeffrey said Dam is confusing two separate programs, Sect. 8 rental assistance and rental rehabilitation. There are no target areas for Sect. 8. Communities with identifiable needs to upgrade housing are on an approved list, which includes parts of the Round Lake area, Zion and Highland, the director pointed out.

Dam emphasized that Fox Lake and Zion have the highest concentration of subsidized low income housing in Lake County outside of Waukegan and North Chicago, which do not come under Lake County Housing Authority jurisdiction.

The former mayor introduced a contractor, Gary Miley, who told Fox Lake officials that he dropped out of LCHA programs under dictates of his conscience "because Sect. 8 mothers are running around and not taking care of their children."

Mayor Pro-Tem Darwin Follman announced that the board would hold over until Jan. 29 a request from Dam and the school to adopt a resolution to put a moratorium on Sect. 8 housing assistance.

"Our aim is to help residents live better lives. If you ask us to cease, there will be no benefit to the community," Jeffrey commented.

In a letter to the village board, Jeffrey denied that there is an imbalance. "Assistance in the Fox Lake area is nine percent of the authority's assisted tenants. Persons living in the Fox Lake area constitutes nine percent of the waiting list," he stated both at the meeting and in a letter.

A majority of assisted families in the Fox Lake area were residents when they applied for assistance, the director stated. Since Sect. 8 programs utilize privately owned housing, local taxing bodies receive a full share, Jeffrey stated.

Jeffrey said Dam failed to show that Sect. 8 tenants require special educational services.

Lakewood Forest Preserve

Compost site will be the first of many

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Summer grass clippings and fall leaves will find a new use under a test program to get underway.

It will be on 12 acres at the south end of the Lakewood Forest Preserve off Ivanhoe Rd. near Wauconda.

This will become the dumping ground for soon-to-be-illegal grass clippings, leaves and twigs under 3-1/2 inches. They will be turned into compost. As of July 1 it will be illegal to dispose of these with the normal garbage.

Financing the test is $110,000 in state grant funds and $50,000 from the participating villages of Mundelein, Libertyville, Vernon Hills and Deerfield. They will join in the one-year cooperative experiment.

Private collectors will take the grass, leaves and twigs to the Lakewood site. There, these will be ground, mulched, winnowed, watered, covered with a thin layer of soil and turned periodically. In 12 to 20 months the nutrient rich end product will be ready for use on Forest Preserve Dist. land or by park districts and municipalities. "Eventually, even the public can use the compost," said Bill Barron, assistant county administrator, who is overseeing the operation.

This test is the first of what is expected to become a number of county-controlled compost sites throughout Lake County. Surrounding villages will have their grass, leaves and twigs hauled to the yet-to-be-selected sites. Most of the sites will be on county-owned Forest Preserve Dist. land.

Lessons learned from the Lakewood compost program will be applied to the others.

Composting grass, leaves and twigs is expected to divert 20 percent of today's landfill tonnage.

The County Board spent slightly more than one hour of its Jan. 9 meeting discussing the pros and cons of the Lakewood compost experiment.

Most members were concerned with putting the operation in an open space zone. Permission to do this is being sought at a Thursday, Jan. 25, hearing of (Continued on page 9) 115 lbs., and having hazel eyes and dark brown hair.

"Anyone having information on the whereabouts of Michelle Card is asked to contact Lake County ISEARCH at (708)244-KIDS, or the I

Kick-off year-long 50th celebration

Getting ready to start year-long celebration of the Antioch Rescue Squad's 50 years of service to the community are, from left, Dave Horton, Rick Lubkeman, Sandi Slegmoller and Tom Dvorak. Slegmoller represents the Antioch Junior Women's Club which is sponsoring a dinner dance honoring the squad on Feb. 17 at Maravolas.

Jr. Women to kick-off rescue squad fete

In 1939 a group of concerned individuals recognized the need for emergency medicine in the Antioch Chain O'Lake area. With the help of the Kenosha Chapter of the American Red Cross, these men founded the Antioch Rescue Squad.

The squad grew from four people to approximately 25 shortly thereafter.

Throughout the years, the squad has provided emergency medical services day and night on a volunteer basis. Basic first aid was provided in the beginning through the experiences in World War II and the Korean conflict.

As these techniques emerged, they were quickly adopted by the Antioch Rescue Squad.

Keeping with this changing technology, in 1971 the Antioch Rescue Squad achieved recognition as Illinois' first paramedic-mobile intensive care unit. Antioch had Illinois' first seven certified paramedics.

Today, the Antioch Rescue Squad remains an all volunteer organization providing 24-hour emergency care to the residents of Antioch Twp. This represents the highest level of technology in the field of emergency medicine.

The Antioch Jr. Woman's Club will be hosting a dinner dance and fund raiser on Feb. 17, at Maravola's in Fox Lake.

The evening's celebration will be in honor of the Antioch Rescue Squad's 50th anniversary. Ticket price will be $40 per person and will be available for purchase after Jan. 29, at the First National Bank of Antioch and the State Bank of Antioch.

This is a very special celebration for the community of Antioch. The countless hours given to the community by the Antioch Rescue Squad and professional emergency care is something the Antioch Community can be very proud of.

Everyone is invited to join the Antioch Jr. Woman's Club as they honor all members, past and present of the Antioch Rescue Squad.

Village uses annexation for anti-Traco protection

The Antioch Village Board has authorized Village Atty. Ken Clark to write-up ordinances annexing the Tiffany Rd. and Antioch North properties to the village.

At a public hearing, the five owners of four parcels in the Antioch North properties were told of the planned annexations, a move precipitated by the problem caused when Traco, a chemical firm, moved into the Antioch North area creating an unsightly mess.

"The village has to have control to see that this kind of thing never happens again," said Mayor Robert Wilton.

Legal moves to finally get Traco to leave the area proved to be costly for the village.

At a board meeting following the hearing, the board discussed which zoning the properties would be brought into the village under and decided to get a recommendation from the village planner, Planning Resources, on the matter before proceeding.

R-1 and M-1 zoning was discussed, with Trustee Don Amundsen disparaging requests for multiple family zoning, saying "the board has already decided that the village needs no new apartment housing."

Many of the property owners concerned asked that the present zoning remain after the annexation.

Bob Burda questioned the board saying, "I know that I have no say so in this annexation, but what do I get out of it?"

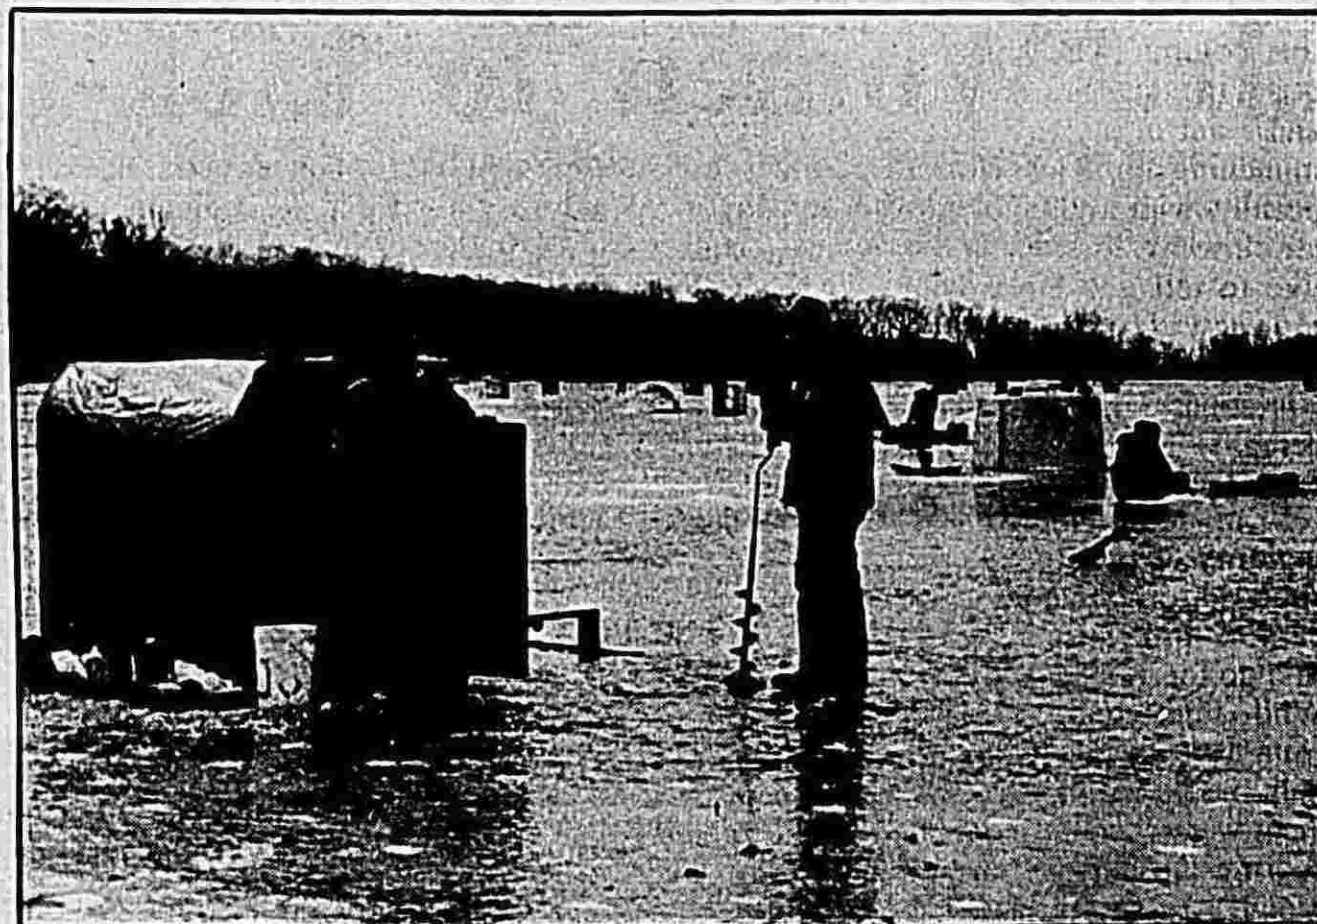

Trustee Larry Hanson answered, "Police protection," and Amundsen added, "And the right to pay village taxes."

A representative of the Kravitz property, on North Ave., across from Regal China, told the board that and manufacturing zoning would make his residential property unsalable.

Don Jansky, who owns two-and-one-fourth acres in the Antioch North properties told the board, "I left Lindenhurst because of tax increases, now the same thing will be happening with my property here."

Emmons Study

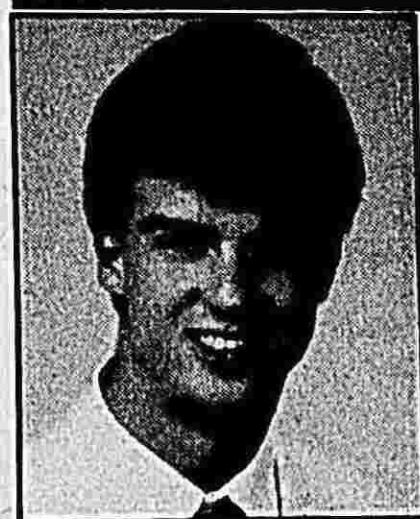

The Emmons Grade School board has two years to explore its options on whether to consolidate with another school district or remain independent. After a meeting with Sybil Yastrow, county regional school superintendent, the board asked for a state study before deciding on consolidation. Emmons decided to stay independent after a study two years ago. Electors of the school district have turned down two referendums for the school's expansion. Supt. Jill Ballock says that the district, though not in debt now, may be having financial problems in two years.

Ready for ice racing

Motorcycle and all-terrain vehicle operators get ready for weekly racing on ice of Lake Marie. Crowds attending have hard time parking but additional parking spaces are to be provided in the future says owner of Sand Bar where races are held. — Photo by Gloria Davis.

made on the loud speaker system that the four cars would be towed if they were not moved. There was no response to the announcement.

Other cars received parking citations from sheriff's deputies.

Bihler said that she was in the neighboring bar, Maggie's Landing and heard no such announcement.

Cashmore also said that, although the townships have no parking posting in many areas, this area off of Beach Grove Rd. was not posted, so cars that were parked on the side of the road and not impeding traffic were not towed.

Bihler claims that when she talked to a deputy on the telephone, on Sunday, he admitted that he saw them park.

Cashmore told her he would review the telephone tapes for that conversation.

"We were parked like many other cars that were not towed, I feel my car was towed because it was one of the last ones and easy to get to," says Bihler.

"We have a geographical problem here. Originally the area was made-up mainly of summer cottages, now many of those have become full-time residences," says Cashmore.

"People have a beef with the proprietor of the Sand Bar and not the sheriff's department because sufficient parking and parking staffing has not been provided for the amount of people that are attending the races which have six more weeks to run," he adds.

Because of the congestion, Cashmore met with the owner of the Sand Bar at press time and he was in the process of talking to the owners of some vacant lots in the area, seeking to lease parking permission from them.

The promise of parking staffing that will tell people who park on the road that they are risking having their car towed was also forthcoming.

Lizard writes of insanities caused by people's quirks

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

I'll start this week's column off with Lizard's insanities, and then actually give you some "worth-while" items of information. I am alone as I write this column. The house is quiet, the dogs are sleeping, and I am in my easy chair munching on a handful of peanuts with a glass of water close by. First of all, I'd like to tell you I removed my new "Lizard on the Prowl" sweatshirt from the Christmas box, washed it, dried it and put it on a hanger ready to wear.

I must confess, the majority of people who responded to my survey concerning this "gift of love" said go for it, wear the shirt. While I definitely do appreciate their input, I could not help but notice that none of them were wearing clothing bearing the slogan "on the prowl." As I said, the shirt is on the hanger ready to go. Will I wear it, and where? I guess only time will tell!

This leads me to the next portion of my re-amblings.

Did you ever notice:

- People seem to urge you to do the very things they would never do?

- When us married gals come up with an idea the old man tunes it out, only to bring the same idea up in a day or so as if it were his?

- Complaint departments really do not want to handle your complaints?

- All other overweight people look fine, only you look lousy with that excess baggage?

- When you finally get something you really wanted, it no longer seems so important to have it?

- How hard people work to afford beautiful spacious homes, but are never home?

- How often busy people complain about having no time, only to get involved in the next cause that comes along?

- How tired you are when you return from a vacation?

- It is easier to criticize someone for doing a poor job, rather than do the job yourself?

4-H night

"Friends Around the World" is the theme for the Lake County 4-H International Night, scheduled for 7 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 19, at the Lake County Fairgrounds.

Grass Lake School

Jan. 16, 17 and 18 Grass Lake School will be involved in the Child Assault Prevention Program sponsored by LaCasa (Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault).

On Tuesday, Jan. 9, the staff members were provided a workshop of information concerning behavior indicators relating to sexual abuse, and the educator's legal responsibility in reporting suspected cases of abuse.

On Wednesday, Jan. 10, the Grass Lake School PTO hosted a parent information program from LaCasa to enable parents to reinforce and expand on the concepts and strategies their children will learn in the program. There were only about 25 parents at the meeting, but those who were present victims, and children usually end up telling seven to 10 people about their abuse before someone really listens to them or takes them seriously. The importance of a secret code word within a family was stressed. Also, these programs are most effective and can make a bigger difference when the parents and teachers work hand in hand in educating children to these potential dangers that exist in our society.

Thanks

Last week I received a copy of a note Russ Fairchild sent to Bill Schroeder of Lakeland Newspapers. Russ took time out of his busy schedule to tell Mr. Schroeder that a lot of people have told him they enjoy reading "Hometown Goodies." The note also contained a few other compliments that Russ threw my way. However, since I am such a "humble" person, I will not elaborate on the rest of his note. Thanks, Russ, for your kind words and thanks for the news you send in my direction. Please consider taking us all on a "springtime" stroll through Antioch, as it is great seeing the names of so many of our townspeople in the news.

Emmons School

A little birdie by the name of Joanne Fleshman was kind enough to let us in on what the junior high classes at Emmons School are enjoying in math class.

The sixth graders are engaged in improving their skills with fractions, while the seventh graders are learning about integers and developing proficiency in using percentages. In preparation for high school, the eighth graders are busy studying geometry, statistics and algebra.

All of the students are discovering that mathematics is a valuable tool.

Animal wardens continue to survey county

Lake County Health Dept. Animal Wardens will conduct door-to-door surveys on the following dates in specific Lake County areas:

-Week of Jan. 22, Pleasant Hills Subdivision and unincorporated areas of Round Lake.

-Week of Jan. 29, Ingleside and Long Lake.

-Week of Feb. 5, Williams Park Subdivision and unincorporated areas of Wauconda.

-Week of Feb. 26, Forest Lake and Hawthorn Woods areas of Lake Zurich.

Area residents, including non-pet owners as well as pet owners, will be asked to fill out the animal control survey. The survey will give the health department feedback on the quality of animal control services being provided, and, at the same time, inform residents on rabies control and local animal control ordinances.

The Lake County Animal/Rabies Control Ordinance requires that all dogs and cats have a Lake County rabies registration tag attached to their collars as proof of their rabies vaccination status. At the time pets are vaccinated, the veterinarian will have information on obtaining the registration tag. Pets must be registered within 21 days of vaccination.

The registration tag provides proof of vaccination if the animal bites or is bitten by a rabid animal. The tag also helps trace ownership if the pet is lost.

The threat of animal rabies is controlled through rabies immunizations of pets. Rabies is a virus that attacks the nervous system. Once symptoms appear, the disease is almost always fatal.

The Lake County ordinance also requires that dogs, cats or other animals be controlled in some manner to prevent their running at large, whether they are secured by a leash or lead, or confined by a fence or other means on an owner's property.

For more information on rabies and registration tags, or to report an animal bite, call the health department's Rabies Control Program at (708)360-6424 or (708)526-5336.

Village open house

ANTIOCH — There will be an open house for the public at a hearing for the land use map of Antioch, at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday, Jan. 20, at the Antioch Senior Center at 817 Holbek Dr. This meeting will be an informal public forum in order to elicit input from all interested and affected parties. Planning commission members, Community Development Dir. Don Davis and representatives of Planning Resources, Inc. will be on hand to speak and answer questions.

Talk land policy

GRAYSLAKE — Whether or not to seek all or some of land due from developers sparked a discussion among Grayslake Community Park Dist. commissioners. The board voted 4-2 to table a motion until further meetings can be held with developers, school districts and the village, on whether or not the park district should seek all land it is due. Commissioners Ken Grosvenor, who made the original motion and Virginia Russell, voted against the motion to table.

Motorola start near

LIBERTYVILLE — Construction is scheduled to start this spring on a new $50 million plant where Motorola Inc. will manufacture cellular telephones for the Asian market. Upwards of 4,000 persons will be employed on two shifts when production reaches capacity in 1993, including 2,000 to be transferred from a smaller plant in Arlington Heights. Rte. 45 will be widened to three lanes north of Mundelein to handle the increased traffic and a new traffic signal installed at Rte. 45 and Winchester Rd.

Eagle wants store

MUNDELEIN — Village officials will try to break a 10-year covenant banning a grocery store, pharmacy or liquor store from locating in the closed downtown Jewel-Osco complex. Interested in the location is the Eagle Food store, now located two blocks away. The Eagle must move by the end of 1990 when O'Reilly's Furniture store of Libertyville takes over the premises.

Seek building

PRAIRIE VIEW — Vernon Area Library officials will ask voters in March to approve a tax increase for a new $7.7 million building to relieve cramped space at the existing building on Indian Creek Rd. A referendum consists of two questions, including approval of a $6.9 million bond issue and an increase in the general operating tax rate from .15 to .19 per $100 assessed valuation. If both questions are approved, residents will pay an additional 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The existing building was designed to hold 40,000 items. Now, the library has over 55,000 items. The increased population due to rapid housing growth contributes to the cramped quarters, according to Library Director Allen Meyer. Without the new building, materials and programs will be drastically cutback, Meyer said.

Vying for land

LAKE VILLA/FOX LAKE — The Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. and the Village of Lake Villa are vying for property contiguous to the Grant Forest Preserve along Rte. 59. Last Wednesday, two representatives from Roy Gottlieb Co. and Lexington Homes were given the okay of the Lake Villa Village Board to deposit an escrow fund with the village and meet with Village Planner Lane Kendig to discuss potential plans for the two 200-acre parcels they want to buy. Two days later, the Land Acquisitions Committee of the Forest Preserve Dist. voted to have the land designated for purchase. But both Lake Villa Mayor Joyce Frayer and Land Acquisitions Committee member and Dist. 4 Rep. Suzi Schmidt say they have been working on their respective projects for six months. As of press time Wednesday, Lake Villa planned a special meeting for annexation Thursday evening and the Forest Preserve Board was scheduled to vote on designating the land Friday. The Forest Preserve Board is permitted to designate land in a municipality for purchase provided the land is contiguous to existing Forest Preserve properties.

Development freeze

ISLAND LAKE — The Village of Island Lake is threatening to stop development at the Fox River Shores subdivision unless the developer, Pickus Construction Co. of Waukegan, can correct problems with the water coming from two wells in the area. Building Commissioner John J. Ryan, issued a statement at a recent village board meeting saying the board had asked his department to stop issuing occupancy permits for the subdivision after Jan. 25. The order further directs that Ryan must "freeze" all development after Feb. 8, unless conditions are met as set forth.

Tell cuts views

GURNEE — Some residents wearing patches with the word band, all had similar concerns as they approached the Gurnee Dist. 56 Board of Education. In the first of three public hearings to solicit opinions from the voters, Dist. 56 residents gave their views on some $350,000 in budget cuts proposed if a March 20 referendum fails. Earlier in the evening, the board voted to seek a 75 cent per $100 increase in assessed valuation for the education fund and a 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation in the building fund. The same measures lost in November. "We are trying to stay as open-minded as possible right now," board member Marcia Bleck said.

Joint recycling

LINDENHURST — Lindenhurst Trustee Tom Berger is spearheading a joint curbside recycling and composting project in the Villages of Lindenhurst, Lake Villa and Antioch and the Twps. of Lake Villa and Antioch. Berger has held two meetings with representatives from all the municipalities and plans to apply for two joint grants when monies become available this month and next.

Limit lowered

LAKE ZURICH — After hearing the pleas of several residents, the Lake Zurich Village Board has voted to attempt to lower the speed limit on Bristol Trail Rd. In addition, Mayor James Kay has issued an executive order requesting stricter enforcement of the speed limit on the residential street that runs between Old Mill Grove Rd. and Quentin Rd.

Praise hospital

GURNEE — A Gurnee trustee is praising the operation of Charter Medical Corp., a firm which may be considering a move to Gurnee area. "I was very impressed with their operation," Gurnee Trustee Dave O'Brien said. O'Brien, Trustee James Yost and Gurnee Plan Commission members Dave Hampson and Carl Cepon toured the firm's facility in suburban Milwaukee Saturday.

Marriage licenses boom
after repeal of AIDS law

"All the 1989 figures are in, and it appears that the repeal of the AIDS testing law had a definite effect on the rise in marriage licenses issued in Lake County during the last four months," according to Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

Comparing the first eight months of 1989 to the first eight months of 1988, the number of marriage licenses hardly varies. But comparing the last four months of 1989 (after the repeal of the law) to the last four months of 1988, the increase is tremendous—a whopping 33 percent increase.

"This is good news for Lake Countians who wish to get married in their own communities and good news for Lake County government which now gets to keep the additional revenue," she noted. "Approximately $15,000 annually was lost to neighboring Kenosha County in Wisconsin when Lake Countians crossed the border to get married where the costly AIDS test wasn't a requirement."

Compost site

"If we are denied the compost site will have to be located somewhere else," member James Dolan of Libertyville said.

"Does the ZBA have the authority to tell us what we can or cannot do with our own property?" Matthew Miholic of Lake Bluff asked?

Richard Price asked aloud about use of the location by communities other than Mundelein, Libertyville, Vernon Hills and Deerfield. The general feeling was that use could not be restricted.

John Balen, who has become anti-village in recent years, said Lake County should not provide a site for Vernon Hills' refuse. "Vernon Hills annexed the John Cuneo property," he said of an 800-acre annexation of prize real estate last year. "Let them designate 600 acres of so of that property for compost. Then, other villages can also use it."

With the board approved use of the Lakewood Forest Preserve for composting. Next step is approval by the Forest Preserve.

Tax assistance available

Free federal income tax, Illinois income tax and Illinois circuit breaker assistance will be available to the residents of Lake County starting Jan. 30. This assistance will be available to the older citizens and is provided free through the Tax-Aide program of the American Assn. of Retired Persons.

Volunteer counselors who have been trained by the Internal Revenue Service will be available at all available sites.

Taxpayers using the service should bring with them copies of last year's federal, state and circuit breaker forms. They should also bring with them their 1989 tax forms along with all 1099 and W-2 forms which will list all of their income and social security income for 1989. All tax exempt income information is also required.

Do not ask for assistance with small businesses, trusts or returns involving complicated depreciation. Help for this type of return can be secured directly from the IRS.

Explain forum tandem

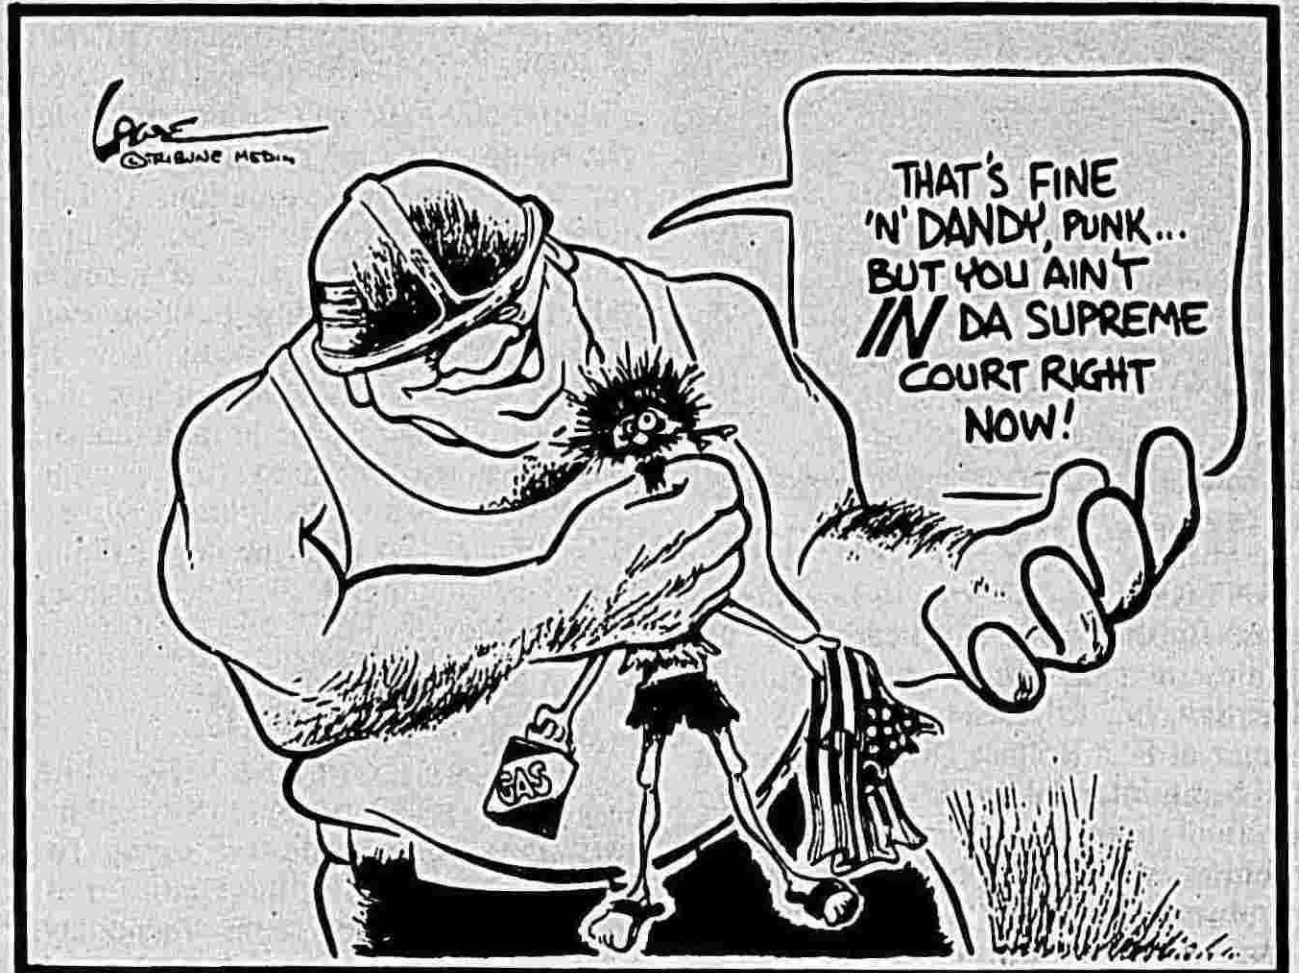

The Lake County League of Women Voters, known far and wide for its policy of fairness and non-partisanship, is teaming up with the Lake County Farm Bureau, which has become increasingly antagonistic toward the Forest Preserve Dist., to stage a series of five candidate forums in connection with the spring primary.

The Farm Bureau, openly biased against the Forest Preserve District's land acquisition policies and tactics, feels that what happens to the county's rapidly diminishing supply of open space will be a keen issue in this year's County Board elections. County Board representatives serve in the dual capacity as forest preserve commissioners.

On the surface, there appears to be a mismatch on the sponsorship of the forums running March 1-14, what with the League's pro open space being a known quantity. Acknowledging that there might be an appearance of "strange political bedfellows," Alice Pierce, the League's voter services chairman and coordinator of the forums, explained that the Farm Bureau requested the League to arrange the public forums under its long established guidelines for non-partisanship. The Farm Bureau has given the League full control, Pierce emphasized.

So everything will be on the up-and-up and voters will have a good chance to hear the candidates expound on issues. We may not agree with the Farm Bureau on open space, but we compliment the organization on doing its part to help showcase issues and candidates for a better informed electorate.

Small town politics

Unless Mayor Marilyn Sindles changes her mind, a long shuttered Jewel supermarket in downtown Mundelein will remain boarded up, a monument to small town politics.

Sindles broke a tie to scuttle a plan presented by former Mayor Colin McRae to remodel the unused building for a group of small businesses. The mayor explained her vote by pointing out that the McRae plan was flawed. Considering that the Mundelein Plan Commission unanimously supported, for the most part McRae's rehabilitation plan, the case against local politics coming into play is difficult to defend.

Whenever the council rejects the recommendations of a planning group there's always the temptation to look behind the scenes. Fox Lake is one community struggling with this problem after trustees flatly rejected three consecutive major issue recommendations of the village's planning body. Obviously, planning members are out of sync with the trustees. There is reason to believe that Fox Lake planners are more loyal to former Mayor William Dam, who appointed most of them, than Mayor Frank Meier who was elected last spring.

No matter community size, petty politics always lurks as a bugaboo. It may be asking a lot to expect that political considerations, no matter how small, not come into play on touchy questions.

'Insensitive' pols

There's another version of the long standing O'Hare Airport rhubarb where neighbors are complaining about excessive jet noise. This one has to do with complaints from Gurnee neighbors of the North Shore Sanitary Dist. sanitary treatment works about sewage odors.

Public officials on the receiving end always come out losers whether it's noisy airplanes or smelly sewage. What about the officials on the other end? The ones who tend to side with the complainers. Are they heroes? We're not so sure.

Enough opinions already have been sounded on the O'Hare question so another viewpoint originating a few miles north won't help the situation. In the case of the North Shore Sanitary Dist., though, it should be emphasized that officials on both sides mulled over the potential problems involving residential encroachment. Sanitary Dist. trustees suggested that the Village of Gurnee zone a buffer area for commercial purposes, but the suggestion never was followed up.

Not so surprising, lots adjacent to the treatment works were offered by developers at bargain prices. And the way those things tend to work out, dollar conscious home buyers snapped up the bargains with the result that today the treatment works is next to a neighborhood of homes. Kind of reminds you of the residential communities around O'Hare.

Just to prove that sanitary district trustees were not unsympathetic or lacking in foresight, a shortage of funds prevented them from purchasing a ribbon of land around the treatment works before home building heated up. Unfortunately, indeed. Now they're bad guys. The nerve of some hard-nosed politicians operating a sewage plant right in the middle of a residential neighborhood!

Letters To The Editor

Farm Bureau lauded

Editor:

I would like to congratulate the Farm Bureau for the stand it is taking against a trail connecting McDonald's Woods in Lindenhurst with the Rollins Savanna in Grayslake proposed by the Forest Preserve.

A trail needs to be properly planned so that it does not cut through the middle of farm fields or through peoples backyards or past someone's bedroom windows. Graham said in the paper that, "We are not trying to throw Mr. Bonner off his farm, we would just put a trail through." What a ridiculous statement! That is like saying we don't want to buy your house, we only want to cut it in half and use the middle of it. This kind of a statement shows the people in Lake County some of the mentality we have on the County Board.

The abuse of the landowners has got to stop and the Forest Preserve has got to work with the people of Lake County to buy land when it is for sale.

Mike a '100 year' man

Editor:

I have often wondered what Libertyville Twp. would have looked like today if F.T. "Mike" Graham had never served as the Twp. Supervisor and Lake County Forest Preserve Commissioner.

Instead of having the most publicly owned or designated Open Space and Forest Preserve land (4,000 acres), we would very likely have 4,000 to 6,000 more single or multi-family units, a need for more schools, and excessive commercial and industrial development creating even more traffic congestion.

Even the land being acquired by the present township administration is all due to his past efforts. Men with such determination come along only once every 100 years. Everyone owes him a great debt of gratitude.

Hoping for lower taxes

Editor:

New Year's Resolutions: 1. Be prudent with our constituency's money. 2. Spend the taxpayers' money wisely. 3. Remember, the Lake Zurich tax money is not an open checkbook for handling personal preferences. Take your pick, Lake Zurich Board of Trustees. Any one of the above will make a lot of taxpayers happy. Let's digress through 1989 to see why such New Year's resolutions may be needed.

A. Mayor Kay believes our Lake Zurich water is undrinkable. He spends much money to convince residents of this fact. To pay for Lake Michigan water won't be as bad as it sounds because we won't really pay for it all in our water bills — we'll just have a larger tax bill. Even after a defeated referendum, Mayor Kay is still spending our money to convince us.

B. Mayor Kay believes our police department needs a new image. For years I have heard nothing but good about our police department. Maybe spending a lot of money for a scientific study and new uniforms of a different color will make them more efficient and better respected.

C. The trustees, in their zeal to uphold their platform to stop growth in Lake Zurich, declare a total ban on new

Make room for Jeeps in suburbs

Historians searching for a label for the 1990's need look no farther than the backyard, or the sideyard. This will be the Era of the Four Car Garage.

Examples of what's in store for residential construction in upscale neighborhoods in Libertyville, Lake Zurich and Buffalo Grove have already surfaced. Four car garages will be commonplace in a few years, maybe even squeezing out trendy upgrades like turret breakfast rooms, gazebos and two-story foyers. Over-sized master baths with saunas and whirlpools are here to stay, like microwave ovens.

And what's going in the fourth stall? Your local Jeep dealer has the answer, if he can keep four-wheel vehicles, the car of choice of the Yuppie generation, in stock.

No self respecting Lake Forester would be caught dead these days without a Jeep, preferably one loaded with all the goodies a friendly banker will allow. The Jeep craze to fill the bill for a train car or weekend cruising also is showing up in places like Lincolnshire, Barrington and Wadsworth.

Here's the lineup for the modern four-car garage of the early 90's: Space No. 1, dad's Audi or BMW; Space No. 2, mom's Mercedes (white wagon with car seat); Space No. 3, family van (for Bear game tailgating and ski trips); Space No. 4, The Jeep. Junior's beater is consigned to the blacktop driveway, a constant neighborhood eyesore.

Where to store the rider mower, leaf mulcher, jet skis, sailboat and the patio furniture? Sorry, you're on your own.

SOUTH REPORT—What with the Christmas freeze and water rationing, the Sunny South isn't quite so sunny these days. A city ordinance in Deerfield Beach, Fla., limits car washing to 4 to 7 a.m. Sundays. My brother-in-law, an insomniac, scrubs the family car in the dark before getting ready for church.

MOVING FAST—Motorola is moving fast getting established at its two new mid-county locations. Remodeling of the former Midwest Transformer plant on Rte. 83, Grayslake, is about complete after a total gutting of the interior for replacement of facilities to meet new specifications. Motorola reportedly spent $1 million on the remodeling. Ground is expected to be broken at the 80 acre Winchester Rd.-Rte. 45 site in spring. Cellular phones will be manufactured by an estimated 4,000 persons at the two plants.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—A lot of "history" went by the boards when Bob did inventory on pop's necktie collection before starting the second semester. A number of favorites went into the discard pile with only styles appropriate for the 90's remaining. College guys, who seldom wear ties, seem to know a great deal about neckwear. Must be the confidence of youth.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Does Warren Twp. Sup. Robert Depke have his political sights set on more than becoming a member of the County Board for a second time? Depke is making a strong spring bid for election to the board in Dist. 5.

He also may be angling for something bigger, say Depke watchers.

It begins with another office to which he is seeking election—Republican precinct committeeman. For the first time in years the name of his wife, GeorgeAnn, won't be on the ballot in the precinct where she has held office for many years.

At the last minute on the day of the Dec. 18 filing deadline, GeorgeAnn withdrew her petitions for committeeman. Filed in their place were those of Robert Depke. "GeorgeAnn didn't want the job any more, so I filed," is Depke's explanation.

Reportedly, Depke decided to run for committeeman when he heard county GOP Chairman Robert Neal is in re-election trouble. Neal is being opposed by a relative political unknown, Charles Nordigian, for committeeman in Newport Twp.

The county party chairman must, first, be a precinct committeeman. If Neal is defeated—a long shot—the chairman's job would be up for grabs. If Depke wins—as expected—he has enough GOP friends to make him an influential candidate. Depke's son, Shawn, is chairman of the Warren Twp. Republican precinct committeemen.

Depke said he would never challenge Neal directly for the party chairmanship. But if Neal isn't around and Depke is—that's a different story.

Fox Lake Mayor Frank Meier is going to take a vacation, of sorts. He will take the month of February off. That means constituents won't be able to call him at his Masterbilt Fence Co. office. This is the company he founded 30 years ago, but subsequently sold.

But they will find him at the village hall or close by. Maier, who was elected last March, will be around every day in February.

He wants to catch up on some village business and, accompanied by other village officials such as the chief of police and building inspector, personally call on every business. Meier will give the part-time job some full time attention to get a good handle on things and let the business community know Fox Lake cares.

Libertyville Mayor Joanne Eckmann guesses she has already spent her $5,500 per year salary. She was elected last March.

"It went for pizza," Eckmann said of the money. "My two children and husband have had more than their share of it since election day," the new mayor said of the many meetings, public appearances and social gatherings she must attend. Pizza is the dinner substitute in the Eckmann household when mom's at one of those functions.

Much as the mayor's salary doesn't stretch far enough when it comes to pizza, Eckmann isn't complaining. She loves the job as much as her kids love pizza.

Wauconda Twp. Sup. Gerald Beyer won his bet. He didn't think Howard Bieze of the maverick Wauconda Twp. Republican Assn. would actually follow through on his bid for the County Board.

Bieze made all of the motions and noise. Petitions with the proper signatures were filed to make him a bonafide candidate in Dist. 6.

When it was mentioned in this space that Bieze might not be serious, he raised a ruckus with the publisher.

But lo and behold, Bieze is now a has-been when it comes to the 1990 County Board election. He withdrew his name from the ballot last week—just days before the deadline. And Beyer wins the bet.

Beyer wants to win still another one. He is running against incumbent Bieze for Republican precinct committeeman in the March primary. Who will win this one?

The 400-plus member Lake County Farm Bureau has its share of admirers and critics.

Those who belong say the non-profit body is working hard to fulfill its mission. This includes marketing, education, information, legislation and business services.

It is the legislation and information part that bugs people. The Farm Bureau uses news releases to criticize certain members of the County Board and an electric sign in front of its Lake County Fairgrounds office to carry supposedly non-partisan messages. Two months ago the sign praised County Board member Andrea Moore for supporting the Farm Bureau's position on an open space land purchase off Almond Rd.

To add some legitimacy to its business, the Farm Bureau has teamed up with the Lake County League of Women Voters for a series of March forums featuring County Board/Forest Preserve Dist. candidates. Open spacers predict the meetings will be "stacked" against them.

Farm Bureau members are generally considered anti-Forest Preserve. President Peter Tekampe of Fremont Twp. and Manager Richard Raftis are accused of issuing press releases without polling or contacting members. That's the opinion of County Board member F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville. He was stung, in part, by the Farm Bureau which worked against his re-election as township supervisor last March.

He and others wonder if such partisan political activities go beyond the bounds of the Farm Bureau's mission. "No problem," says Raftis. "We checked with our attorney and, as long as we don't contribute more than $1,000 to a candidate we can get involved in elections as much as we want."

Frank Meier

Maybe the Farm Bureau doesn't contribute to candidates, but its members surely do.

building, including building in progress. Sounds good — to the attorneys. Their Christmas was made very merry with thousands of taxpayer dollars from lawsuits.

D. December, 1989, must be a slow month for our trustees. Karen Demos-Rosenthal feels a little redecorating is in order. Our watertowers need new paint so we might as well spend some more taxpayer money and change the "Alpine Village" slogan. What's wrong with that slogan? Businesses have renovated and built according to the Alpine design. It puts a wonderful, warm, friendly picture in your mind. Mayor Kay suggests, "The Friendship Community". That sounds like a new planned-housing-and-strip-mall development to me. (I thought we put a ban on those.)

I sincerely hope 1990 brings an era of prudent spending by the board and reasonable tax bills for the taxpayers.

Watch appointment policy

Editor:

Thomas Jefferson once wrote we would prefer a free press without government to a government without free press. Richard Nixon once exclaimed during the closing days of his reign that newspaper editors have more power than the president. It must have been men such as Joe Soulak which prompted such commentary.

Mr. Soulak is to be commended for his unswerving devotion to making the truth available to your readers. As officials become increasingly more clever in obscuring the facts of various issues, the value of high calibre journalism becomes proportionately more critical. The latest example is the commentary involving the Vernon Hills Police Chief Gary Kupsak.

While in command as the previous Lindenhurst police chief, officer resignations reached unprecedented levels which included the 1986 officer of the year. Three reportedly departed for less money. One stated he would have preferred to moonlight hanging drywall rather than leave. But feelings of having been misused and abused were too great to ignore.

There was also the issue of the notorious point merit system for officer pay raises. While the police commissioner flatly denies any such system was ever used, Chief Kupsak admitted one was used by the chamber of commerce in determining the officer of the year. Are residents to believe that being named officer of the year would not enhance the ability of an officer to advance himself?

Calls have been made for the next appointment of police chief to be administrative rather than political. Based on past experience is there any real possibility of this happening? Just precisely how was the Kupsak appointment made both in Lindenhurst or Vernon Hills for that matter?

What is known is that of all the finalists in Vernon Hills, Gary Kupsak was the one applicant without either a master's degree or completion of FBI school to his credit. It is most difficult to comprehend that this appointment was made based on qualifications.

It is assuring to know that the public has let it be known they will be watching closely to see what type of method is utilized this time around for appointing the new chief.

Letters Invited

Letters to the editor are welcome. They should be on topics of general interest, approximately 250 words or less. All letters must be signed, and contain home address and telephone number. The editor reserves the right to condense all letters.

Development commission appoints new members

Five new members appointed to serve on the Lake County Economic Development Commission were introduced and welcomed at the commission's regular monthly meeting at the College of Lake County. The appointments were made by the Lake County board. The new members are William Schroeder, publisher of Lakeland Publications, Inc. of Grayslake; Ed Surros of Grayslake, a real estate broker/builder; Jeff Pickus of Waukegan, who heads up the general contracting division of Pickus Construction Co.; Percival Haley, assistant vice president of American National Bank and Trust Co. of Waukegan; and Richard Glogovsky, director of the Lake County Area Vocational Center.

Outgoing members of the commission were also honored at the meeting. Presented citations for their years of service and plaques were Dr. Rolland Sandee of Waukegan; Mervyn Pilotte of Waukegan; Jack Forney of Libertyville; Bud Scott of Ingleside; and Robert Ratch, mayor of Lindenhurst. Sandee Forney and Pilotte were members of the organization since its formation in 1980.

Chairman James Wilmot, speaking on behalf of all members of the Economic Development Commission/Corporation, expressed deep appreciation for the generous donation of time and the important contributions made to the group's work by those retiring members. Pilotte has served as commission vice chairman, corporation secretary and a director-at-large. Forney was a director for many years. Dr. Sandee, a long time county board member and former chairman of the land acquisition committee of the Forest Preserve

Dist., brought great expertise to the commission's work programs. Wilmot said they will be missed.

Christine Stevens, director of the Private Industry Council made a presentation on the various programs available and sponsors who help individuals entering the work force. Stevens said she sees a period ahead in which there will be more jobs than workers in the county. She also said two major problems facing the county are affordable housing and sufficient mass transportation.

Airplane tickets available

If you are the parent of a high school sophomore or junior, or the parent of an LCAVC student and come to the Jan. 21 open house at the Lake County area Vocational Center between 1 and 4 p.m., then you have a chance to win two airline tickets to anywhere in the continental United States of America.

Parents need to register at the front door of the center, and the winner will be announced at 4 p.m. on the 21st.

Also to be given away that day are two sets of two tickets each to a Chicago White Sox game in the spring, two autographed Chicago Bears program booklets from Super Bowl XX, and additional souvenirs from the Chicago Bulls and the Chicago Blackhawks.

On dean's list

Western Illinois Univ. has announced the students the dean's list for their scholastic achievements during the 1989 fall semester. The Lakeland area students honored are: Christopher Apostol and Brenda Borla of Antioch; John Parquette, Julie Shaffer, and Steven Venturi of Barrington; Laura Larson of Buffalo Grove; Kevin Cocco and Paul Mews of Gurnee; Heather Foszcz of Ingleside.

Brian Boland and Lisa Skarzynski of Lake Zurich; Matthew Anderson, Loren Lundtveit, Elizabeth Mason, William Powers and Christina Richards of Libertyville; Paul Deagan of Long Grove; Guy Danhoff, Kristine Davis, Denise Hunter, and Christina Mullen of Mundelein; Valeria Nichols of North Chicago; Martha Criel of Prairie View; Debra Dean and Steven Brown of Riverwoods; Kurt Horcher and Jeff Jones of Vernon Hills; David Fieger and Christine Schultz of Wauconda; and Christine Berg of Richmond.

Correction

In last week's editions, it was incorrectly reported that Kevin Chick, owner of Artistic Creations in Grayslake, filed forgery charges against Jerrold Ming, owner of Jerry's Parkway Foods in Grayslake and Fox Lake. These charges were filed by Lake County States Atty.'s office. Ming, after being indicted by a grand jury, was later acquitted of the charges. Also, the contractor did not owe Ming any money as inferred in the story. These errors are regretted.

Double life

Marcella Hardin, above and right, owner of Marcella A. Hardin's Specialty Advertising in Waukegan, doubles as a business owner and an entertainer. Actually, Hardin likes to keep involved in many simultaneous projects and is currently serving as co-chairperson of the NAACP.—Top photo by Kim Bolton.

Hardin caters to business needs

by KIM BOLTON
Lakeland Newspapers

To say Marcella A. Hardin emits positive energy would be an understatement.

The Waukegan resident is simply excited about life and likes to become involved in just about every business venture she can think of.

"Everything I do is fun. I love what I do and I do what I love. So I don't feel like I'm working." — Marcella Hardin,
owner of Marcella A.
Hardin Specialty
Advertising.

Hardin's business, Marcella A. Hardin Specialty Advertising, which she opened in 1987, caters to all business needs.

"Whatever they want, I see that I can get it, or make it," Hardin said.

So what does Hardin actually do? A look around her office gives one a small idea. But there's much more than meets the eye.

Marcella A. Hardin Specialty Advertising sells all types of promotion pieces for businesses, business forms and stationery. For individuals, the business carries stationery, greeting cards, and a full bridal line of invitations and gifts.

But selling these items is only a small part of Hardin's work. She has a talent for finding products or services that can easily be incorporated into her business to help generate income. For example, Hardin is an Amway distributor and offers UPS shipping from her office, a service she added because she hated the trip to mail UPS packages and thought it would be nice to bring it closer to home for all the area's businesses.

Hardin also likes to market creative talents that have gone undiscovered. She found one gentleman who "tinkers" making wooden educational toys. Hardin says the man appreciates her displaying the toys and selling just enough to finance his hobby.

Hardin is also putting to good use the exceptional artistic talent of her cousin, Theresa Coleman. Coleman has done a series of drawings for Christmas cards specifically geared toward Blacks. Hardin will be selling them in time for Christmas 1990.

Coleman also helps Hardin fulfill her slogan that she can fill every business need. A drafting table sits next to Hardin's office where Coleman draws to the specific requests of businesses.

"If she's close to me, I can say, 'I need this,' and she'll draw it," Hardin said.

But Hardin doesn't market only the talents of others. The self-described ham won't let her own talents be wasted either.

In 1984, Hardin became a professional emcee and leads a double life working as an emcee at Fat Charlie's on 18th St. in Waukegan, a restaurant which she also manages with her 17 years of waitressing experience.

Although it sounds like Hardin does more work and gets involved in more projects than one person can physically and mentally handle, she says she "delegates" work to other people and hires people who are just as goal-oriented as she.

Coleman is just one of the people who Hardin calls on for mutual support.

"The one thing I found out (is) I can never do it all myself. I need other people," Hardin said.

In her office and in Fat Charlie's, Hardin allows her employees to make their own decisions and work toward their own personal goals. She refers to waitresses as floor managers because they're heads of what they do.

"I can't think for everybody because I don't have that much time," Hardin laughs.

Gloria Norwood, Hardin's receptionist who manages the Business Development Ctr. in which Hardin leases her office, is one person whom Hardin is encouraging to take on more responsibilities and work toward her goals. Norwood is running a typing and word processing service through Hardin's business.

Actually, all the businesses located in the Business Development Ctr. support one another in a "one stop shop" for small business people. Renting space along with Hardin are Woodson's Tax and Business Service, Lorrie's Beauty Supplies, Lehmann's LaLa Promotions and Management, Alpha Design, Inc. (owned by Theresa Coleman), and Dee's Travel and Star Entertainment Cruises.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

Understanding risk is an essential part of investing. For bond buyers, it's especially important because their dollars are committed for a number of years.

That's why bond ratings are so important. They represent the evaluation, rating and monitoring of bonds by one or more rating agencies.

These agencies examine bond issuers and determine what level of risk the public can expect from bonds issued by that company.

Then, each agency assigns a rating symbol to each bond. Usually, rating symbols are specific letters of the alphabet or numerals. The slight difference between rating symbols used by different agencies is significant because it lets you know which agency assigned the rating.

If a bond has no rating, it doesn't necessarily mean it's risky. In fact, the absence of a rating might not be related to quality.

Do your homework before you invest, and then keep close track of your investment through bond ratings. They'll keep you updated as to any significant changes your investment may undergo.

Hardin caters

A person "in love with print media" Hardin left a position doing child abuse investigation for the Ill. Dept. of Child Welfare after working there 11 years so that she could learn the advertising business. She accepted a job selling display advertising for Lakeland Newspapers and later went to work for Fordan Press because she wanted to learn all she could about the industry.

Marcella A. Hardin's Specialty Advertising was started while Hardin was still working for Fordan Press. She opened a very small office inside the Business Development Center that she used as a "think tank," but she said she knew she had to leave her job if she ever wanted to get serious about her new business.

"Either you're going to work at it or you're going to play at it. I was time to go," Hardin said.

Hardin says the reaction of her three "grown" children to their mother leaving her job with the state and pursuing a career in advertising was at first negative.

"My kids thought I was crazy," Hardin said. But, she explained, she isn't one to let anything stand in her way.

"Every star that goes by, I just grab the tail end," Hardin said.

Since Hardin opened her own business, she said the attitude of her children has become very positive. To show their support, they pitched in to buy Mom a word processor and a scale to weigh packages for UPS.

"They must be tripping out. They must be saying, 'Look at my mom go,'" Hardin laughed.

Although Hardin spends most of her time working, she says she doesn't think of what she does for a living as "work."

IF YOUR CHILD IS FAILING IN SCHOOL, THIS TEST WILL SHOW YOU WHY.

Question: Where would you seek help for each of the following problems?

The point is that in looking for help, you find a bigger problem. Because most of us don't know the exact reasons our kids aren't achieving their academic—or social or emotional—potential; most don't know where to go for the exact help; and few realize that more than one of these experts is probably called for. It's no wonder many children fail without really knowing why.

LGSS & Associates is a group of doctors, educators and specialists who created The Youth Evaluation Service. It was created to test and identify your child's problems and suggest the people who will help. Most important, it forms a link between the school and the family to get the most help possible.

Contact the Youth Evaluation Service to schedule a free, private consultation. It's a test you, and your child will welcome.

Film Review

Tom Cruise once again proves that he's not just a pretty face, but is fast becoming one of film's most accomplished actors.

Of course working under the direction of Academy Award-winning director Oliver Stone is no mean contribution to Cruise's being touted as a nominee by the same academy for his performance in "Born on the Fourth of July."

This is a story about a patriotic young American who grows up yearning to guard and defend his country as a soldier, his volunteering for the Vietnam conflict, and the heroism that turns him into a paraplegic.

The part of his life where he returns home to be insulted by everyone including his family is the most interesting and also the most upsetting. This is where Cruise uses the dramatic prowess he learned while working with such accomplished actors as Paul Newman and Dustin Hoffman.

Be prepared for battle scenes even more graphic and bloody than those in "Platoon."

This is not a happy picture, but an excellent testimony to what occurred while Americans at home were wearing love beads and shouting "Peace," one that deserves a five-star rating.

Now that there have been several excellent films on the Vietnam conflict and some strong tv series on the same subject, belated as they are, one can now put stories coming out of that conflict up alongside of the black struggle and the holocaust of the Jews as great human drama vehicles that sometimes receive media overkill.

Amsterdam, a city claimed from the sea

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

As my plane taxied to the terminal at Schiphol Airport in Amsterdam, it was hard to believe that a sea battle was once fought on this very spot.

Yes, I said a sea battle. The land on which Schiphol Airport is located was once the bottom of the sea.

In fact, over seven million of Holland's inhabitants now live on land wrested from the sea. And those hardy Dutch haven't stopped taming the mighty oceans. A new project of land reclamation will add over five percent to the nation's land area. Makes one wonder why Chicago can't keep Lake Michigan off of Lake Shore Drive!

OK, so what's there to see in this city of canals and wooden shoes?

Hop aboard one of the canal touring boats for a tour of the city. I would not suggest driving the very narrow roads that border the canals. Many a tourist has been rescued from the unguarded waterways.

You'll see the home of Rembrandt. Payments on this house put the great artist into bankruptcy.

I found a visit to the Anne Frank house a moving experience. This was where Anne Frank wrote in her diary the day-to-day ordeal of hiding from the Nazis. For more than two years, eight people lived hidden in an attic, forced to maintain nearly total silence.

For excursions outside of Amsterdam, most travel guides are going to direct you to the windmills. Frankly, I found most to be a little too touristy. I did find one working windmill still lived in on a small farm just outside a town called Weesp.

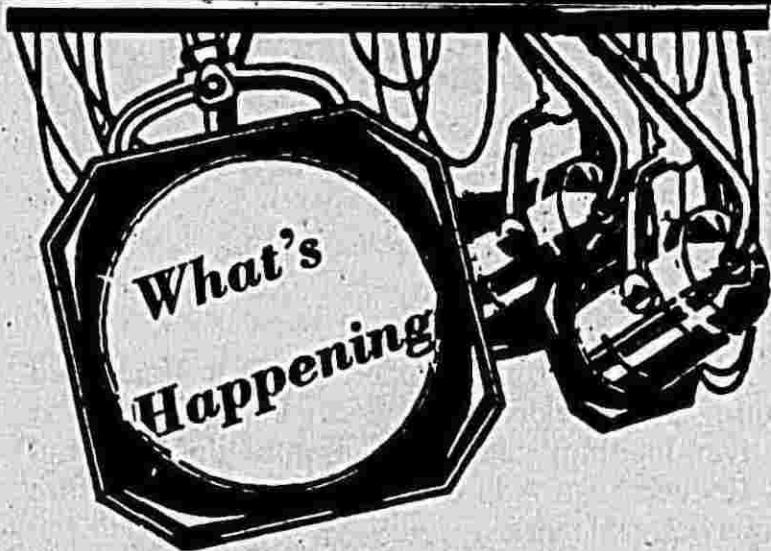

Much more impressive than the Dutch windmills are the castles not far outside of Amsterdam. Castle DeHaar, near the city of Utrecht, is right out of a fairy tale. It is open to the public when the duke is not in residence.

One last word about Amsterdam. Those ladies in the windows with the red lights are not selling lingerie!

Mom Likes To Cook

By Randee Rian

Can there be a meal as elegant in its simplicity as a carefully created bowl of soup?

I think we enjoy preparing homemade soup as a comfortable return to simple basics. It is a timeless food enjoyed winter and summer, steaming hot and ice cold. Recipes are passed down from generation to generation; shared, updated and enhanced with new ideas.

Remember, most soups need to be made early in the morning or, preferably, the day before, then reheated for flavors to meld and taste their very best.

Enjoy . . . it's souper!

Fresh ginger root will give that special oriental flavor to the colorfully light watercress soup. Buy some refrigerated Won Ton dough squares, cut into strips; fry in hot oil, drain, salt and serve. They're very crunchy and look good piled next to the soup bowl.

Oriental Watercress Soup

1 qt. chicken broth
2 slices fresh ginger root
3 to 4 medium-size mushrooms, thinly sliced
1 celery stalk, thinly sliced
1/4 cup small peas
1/4 cup onions, thinly sliced
1 tsp. salt (if broth unseasoned)
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 cup watercress, firmly packed
Bring chicken broth to boil. Add ginger root, mushrooms, celery, peas, onion, salt and pepper. Simmer for 10 minutes. Wash watercress and slice into one-inch pieces. Remove slices of ginger root from soup and add watercress. Bring soup to a boil; turn down immediately. Simmer uncovered only about 30 seconds. Serve immediately. Makes 8 servings.

Creamy and cheesy with specks of colorful carrots, celery and onions. Great flavor and good presentation. The popcorn is fun, used as you would croutons.

Minnesota Beer-Cheese Soup

1/2 cup onions, finely chopped
1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup flour

3 cups milk
3 cans chicken broth
1/2 cup carrots, shredded
1/2 cup celery, diced
Dash salt and pepper
1/2 cup parsley, minced
2 cups cheddar cheese, diced small
1 12-oz. can beer
Popcorn

Cook onion in butter until tender. Blend in flour. Add milk, broth, carrots, celery, parsley, salt and pepper. Cook, stirring over medium heat until mixture thickens and bubbles. Reduce heat. Add cheese and melt. Just before serving, add beer and reheat. Garnish with popcorn.

PM&L rehearses comedy 'Scapino'

"Scapino!" will come romping across the stage at the PM&L Theatre 877 Main St., Antioch, on Feb. 2, 3, 9, 10, 16 and 17, at 8 p.m. and Feb. 11 and 18 at 2:30 p.m. This comedy/farce is sure to captivate audiences of all ages.

Dir. Ken Smouse from Antioch has chosen a talented, energetic cast led by Rob Findlay from Ingleside as Scapino.

Other cast members are Jeff and Lisa Mertes from Trevor, Wis. as Ottavio and Giacinta; Frank Greenwood from Round Lake as Argante Kenelm Scheske from Antioch as Geronte; Bill Finley from Round Lake as Sylvestro; Bret Mumenthaler from Gurnee as Leandro; Russ Gruber from Ingleside as Carlo; and Rosline Scheske from Mt. Prospect as Zerbinetta, Darlene Griffith from Salem, Wis. is the nurse, and two waiters and a waitress are played by Peter Thelen from Antioch and Mark and Donna Badtke from Genoa City, Wis.

Several unusual events have been added to the evenings entertainment. In addition to the play itself there will be clowns, a cabaret show at intermission, a champagne party after the opening night performance, and refreshments at all shows.

Seating is limited so reservations are requested.

Call (708)395-3055 for reservations or further information. Reservations must be picked up at least 15 minutes before curtain. Tickets are $6 for adults and $5 for students and senior citizens. PM&L urges all area theatre goers to "live theatre" in Antioch.

Why should you choose an emergency room before you need one?

And, to round out our emergency services, the Saint Therese Area Treatment Satellite on Rt. 59 at Rt. 132 in Lake Villa is open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., seven days a week.

'Side by Side' opens at Woodstock Opera

"Side by Side by Sondheim" opens at the Woodstock Opera house weekends, starting Friday, Jan. 19 and stars four newcomers and two veterans. They perform with Ron Ferraro providing the continuity to assure a pleasant review of the works of one of America's outstanding artists.

This Woodstock Musical Theatre production will feature 28 songs such as "Send in the Clown," "Do I Hear a Waltz," "Could I Leave You?" and "I Never Do Anything Twice."

Theater

The musical continues through Feb. 4 with prices of $7 and $10. Tickets may be ordered by calling the Opera House box office (815)338-5300. Both VISA and Master Card are accepted, said Beth Davis, production coordinator and stage manager.

Diane Carmody has appeared in theatre on the east coast. She has been cast in an off-Broadway musical revue, "Still Waiting," to be produced this June in Elgin where she has performed since relocating in the Midwest.

Randy Toelke has performed since sixth grade. He was a finalist at the American College Theatre Festival for the Irene Ryan award at the Kennedy Center, Washington, D.C. in 1982-83. He also worked on two cruise lines--Carnival Cruise Lines and NCL Cruise Lines--from 1984-87 as a vocalist entertainer.

Vicky Lecher teaches applied voice at Lewis University and is coordinator of the preparatory division at Illinois Benedictine College. When she is not teaching, Vicky and her husband, Drew, a professional violinist and founder of the Chicago Stradivari Ensemble, are preparing for concerts.

Ken Priess lists some of his favorite roles and performing experiences: The butler/maid, Jacobm is "La Cage Aux Folles," Roger in "Grease," Magaldi in "Evita," and Richie in "A Chorus Line."

During one performance of "Something's A-Foot," Priess bled on-stage after being hit on the head by a newel post (which was supposed to hit him without doing damage).

Veteran performers at the Woodstock Opera House in this Sondheim musical revue are Kathy Brown, Crystal Lake; and Shelly Berlin Nicholas, Woodstock; and Ron Ferraro, Crystal Lake, as master of ceremonies.

"Side by Side," will be Kathy Brown's 18th show at the Woodstock Opera House and her eighth with the WMTC. Brown has appeared with the Chicago Opera Theater, and the Lake Forest Symphony. She performed with the Dickens Carolers during the Christmas season.

Shelly Berlin Nicholas has appeared in many productions with the WMTC. Most recently, Shelly has appeared in numerous industrial films for First Financial and Sears. She is a graduate of music from the Univ. of Illinois and continued her training at Second City.

Ferraro is the entertainer who ties this musical revue together, the master of ceremonies who fills in between the nearly three dozen songs to provide background on Stephen Sondheim and give the audience a chance to absorb the musical rendition.

BAYARD

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 80'0" x 30'0"
LIVING: 1589 square feet
GARAGE: 624 square feet
COVERAGE: 2213 square feet

FLOOR PLAN

209-47 BAYARD
By Landmark Designs
01-11-90

Long, low and lean, the Bayard is a compact and economical starter home with all the basic amenities and then some.

Bedrooms are clustered at one end of the house and family living areas at the other. In the center, convenient to both ends, is a bathroom with double vanities, and a combined utility room and pantry, complete with built-in desk for managing household accounts. Mud-splattered kids can re-enter the house here from the backyard, shucking off shoes without leaving many tracks.

Parents with young children will appreciate the close proximity of bedrooms. When children wake crying with nightmares, or a nighttime cough needs attention, comfort is but a few sleepy steps away. And there are no stairs to negotiate.

The custom-shaped sitting nook in the master suite provides just the right blend of coziness and privacy. Tucked behind the angle created by the end-of-hall linen closet, a person can feel delightfully invisible here. The master suite also includes a double walk-in closet and a second vanity outside the water closet.

The kitchen is really quite spacious, with generous storage and counter space and an eating bar for informal meals and snacks. Sliding glass doors in the dining room open onto a small deck.

For a study plan of the BAYARD (209-47), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Winter Recreation Guide

Lakeland
Newspapers

Weatherproof your skin

Brrr! It's cold out. Ten inches of freshly laid snow cover the ground, making ski conditions super.

Before you go out into the cold, all bundled up and layered with your latest ski gear, remember, protecting your precious skin is just as important as shielding against the cold!

During the winter months, our skin is put through all forms of torture. Freezing temperatures, blustery winds, hot water baths and indoor heat dehydrate and remove moisture, the primary source of skin's softness and suppleness, causing dry and taut skin.

In addition, we mustn't forget the sun. Ski slope sunburns are among the worst. Snow reflects between 70 and 90 percent of the sun's ultraviolet rays, increasing the intensity of the sun as much as a reflector would.

Extra special attention should be given to the parts of the body most affected and exposed to the frost-face, hands and legs.

The eyes, cheeks and neck, and the nose and forehead all require different amounts of moisturizer.

The eyelids, which contain few oil glands are the driest area and should be treated to heavy moisturizer two times a day. The cheeks and neck aren't particularly dry or oily and require a lighter moisturizer. The area around the nose and forehead tends to be oily and needs little or no moisturizing.

Above all, don't forget your lips, which are extremely sensitive! Just as you layer your clothing to protect against the cold, your lip products should be layered too, use with a lip conditioner, then add lipstick or gloss.

Gloves may keep your hands warm but they don't offer all the protection your hands need. Hands that are covered tend to get sweaty and clammy especially if they are active.

It's this sweating/cooling effect that we must protect our hands against. Freezing temperatures strip hands of their moisture, leaving the dry, painfully chapped, rough and unattractive.

When the physical activity ceases, and you are on the chair lift, for example, your hands cool off.

A heavy duty hand cream that works to retain moisture by forming an essential barrier between skin and the elements is a fabulous teammate on the slopes.

For comfortable skin all over, bathing should be done less often than usual in lukewarm to tepid water using a mild cleansing product. Strong soaps are extra-drying because they remove skin oil. Adding bath oil to the bath or applying it immediately after the bath always help.

Winter Recreation Guide

Stay healthy with an aerobic walk

Walking has gained increasing popularity as an effective yet injury-free alternative to running. But with cool, often damp weather creeping across the nation's temperate areas, and the first snowflakes flying in the northern "snowbelt," many people prefer to get their exercise indoors.

It's dark by the time most people get home from work, and in many areas, that translates into unsafe situations. Icy streets, oncoming cars and even muggers create hazards to outdoor exercise. Those same conditions also make it considered by experts to be the most efficient form of exercise.

You can get those same benefits indoors with an in-home total body aerobic exerciser, which offers the same total body aerobic motion. It exercises all the major body muscles, including the arms, shoulders, back muscles and trunk rotators, which are neglected in running or walking.

Prices range from $99 to ones with calibrated gauges, speedometer and chart to allow calculation of calories burned for $699.

Treadmills are an in-home alternative to walking, but experts note that they're expensive. Motorized treadmills, which range in price from nearly $1,000 to more than $3,000 are most often recommended. The cheaper ones are propelled by the friction of walking on rollers. They're uncomfortable on the feet, it's hard to walk fast, and if they break down, it's difficult to get them serviced. Stairclimbers also carry a heavy price tag—up to $4,500.

Choosing the right ski rack

For those who drive to the slopes, ski racks are a necessity. Even station wagon and van owners find that storing skis inside the vehicle can be cumbersome and potentially hazardous. But there are so many different brands and models available, how do you go about making a rational choice?

Overall safety is an important consideration. Truck racks and window racks may interfere with road vision.

Racks that protrude beyond the car's limits may be a hazard to pedestrians or leave the skis vulnerable, and window-mounted racks could inhibit emergency exit from the vehicle.

The skis may be lost or damaged if the rack or its method of attachment is not substantial enough. A poor design could also lead to car damage.

For example, pads and suction cups that are supposed to make the rack more stable and are designed to protect the car's finish could, over a period of time and in the presence of abrasive materials, damage the car's finish.

Another thing to take into consideration is the fuel mileage. Window-mounted racks produced less drag than roof-mounted racks. Two pairs of skis on a typical window rack dropped fuel mileage by nine to 12 percent.

Different combinations of racks and cars may give different results; however, even under the best of circumstances, driving around with an empty rack on your roof at highway speeds is an unnecessary waste of money.

Locks are another important feature. Some racks lock the skis to the rack but not the rack to the car. Others can be rendered inoperative by icing, salt spray and other environmental factors.

Remember, a rack that is ideal for one car may not be ideal for another. Some racks could be a hazard on certain vehicles at high speeds, and some racks are incompatible with certain vehicles because opening doors or trunks could cause interference. If in doubt as to what may be right for you and your car, talk to a qualified ski shop salesman.

CIRCUIT TRAINING

A new way to bring some variety into your preseason exercising is to combine your exercises into a circuit. Mark four or five areas in the downtown park or the backyard woods where you can do different exercises such as sit ups, pull ups, push ups, and arm bands. When you want to start your training, do some warmup jogging for five minutes, then jog to your first station. Do the exercise you have designed for that spot (e.g. 20 sit ups), jog to the next station, do that exercise, etc. Repeat the circuit as often as you have time for. This is a good method for stretching those tight muscles enjoyably.

Winter Recreation Guide

Here's what's new in ice fishing for the '90s

The start of a new decade is a good time to talk about what is new in the seasonally popular sport of ice fishing. Since this is winter and the start of the 1990s, it just made sense to tell you what I've happened across. Here's what's new in augers, jig poles, fishing line and jigs.

Ice augers

There are lots of these on the market. Jiffy makes one that is just super. It is similar to the Mora auger, but goes one step further.

It has a fold-up handle that reduces it only 36 inches long. This makes it easier to tote than a duffle bag. For small trunks and hatchbacks this is ideal.

The blades are interchangeable with those on the Mora auger. There's only one drawback to the Jiffy. None are smaller than 6 inches. Myself, I use a 5 or 4 inch auger. That inch or two makes a big difference when drilling through 12 to 24 inches of ice. It's and even bigger difference when drilling several holes.

But for tip-up fishing you need at least a 6-inch auger.

New ice fishing poles on the market are I-i-m-b-e-r. In fact, the look and feel is that it impossible to catch a fish with them, muchless land one. But they do!

First, these poles eliminate the need for a spring bobber.

You can use the no cold weather line by Berkley. The 1-pound test line works great. Or get some of your

Hot new jigs

Phosphorescent paint has been around for years. I've experimented with both the paint and jigs for three years. I became curious about manufacturers of fishing jigs justing these wife's sewing thread. It has a one-half pound tensile strength in cold water.

As you might expect, line loses some of its strength in cold water. This is why Berkley has introduced the Cold Weather Line.

Also, if you think you are fishing light, go lighter. Don't be afraid to put some bait on the hook such as those spikes or wax worms. Put on as much as you can. Forget that advice when using minnows.

More bait will help catch larger fish and help weed out the smaller ones.

One of those I found nearby is Wisconsin Tackle Inc. in Douseman, west of Milwaukee. There I met owner LaBrant Pikalek. This Wisconsin native is an expert when it comes to ice fishing.

He is also the man behind the Swimmin' Ratt and Swimmin' Fool and several other popular ice fishing jigs. He's tested them. So have I. They are definitely not another gimmick to take up room in your tackle box.

First, they do catch fish. Second, each comes with a lifetime hook warranty. And best of all, they are guaranteed to catch fish or your money back. No lie!

LaBrant is a chemist, so it was easy for him to experiment with phosphorescent paint. After five years he developed a jig paint I found to be the best on the market.

It retains its glow long and is brighter than anything I have seen.

Secret to the longer glow is in the amount of phosphorescent paint used. It varies according to the size of the jig.

Pikalek did all of this through trial and error. Too much phosphorescent scares fish rather than attracts them. That's why his jigs work so well.

I ran across him while at one of the many sport shows he spends time at 16 weeks of the year.

And don't forget, now is the time to get your Wisconsin fishing license. It is also time to tune that outboard motor. The service department at your favorite marina is not all that busy this time of the year.

(Editor's Note: Norm has been reading, eating, sleeping and, yes, catching fish for more than 25 years. A resident at an

Anticoh lake, he has fished in all kinds of weather in all bodies of water in northern Illinois, Wisconsin, the Midwest and

Winter Recreation Guide

Enjoy those Outdoors, BUT....

People who are outside in low temperatures and strong winds tire easily and, because of rapid cooling of exposed surfaces, become more and more susceptible to frostbite. A strong wind, combined with a temperature slightly below freezing, can have the same effect as a still-air temperature about 35 degrees lower.

To determine how much protection you really need, refer to the wind-chill table below. Remember, at wind-chill equivalent temperatures below -25°F, exposed skin can freeze within one minute.

The following are safety measures to follow if you must go outside in cold weather:

Avoid Overexertion

Cold weather itself, without any physical exertion, puts an extra strain on the heart. If you add to this the strain of heavy physical activity such as shoveling snow, pushing an automobile or even walking too fast or too far, you risk damaging your body.

Dress

Dress warmly in loose-fitting, layered, light-weight clothing. Outer garments should be tightly woven and water repellent. Wear a hat. Protect your face and cover your mouth to protect your lungs from very cold air. Wear mittens instead of gloves—they allow your fingers to move freely in contact with one another and will keep your hands much warmer.

Frostbite

Watch for frostbite and other symptoms of cold weather exposure. Frostbite causes a loss of feeling and a white or pale appearance in extremities such as fingers, toes, tip of nose, earlobes. If such symptoms are detected, get medical attention immediately. Do not rub with snow or ice—this does not help the condition and, in fact, will make it worse. The best treatment for frostbite is the rewarming of the affected tissue.

Avoid alcohol

Alcohol causes the body to lose its heat more rapidly—even though one may feel warmer after drinking alcoholic beverages.

Keep clothes dry

Change wet socks and all other wet clothing as quickly as possible to prevent loss of body heat. Wet clothing loses all of its insulating value and transmits heat rapidly.

Pelland's shooting, rebounds pace Antioch boys

Any optometrist will tell you 20-20 are pretty good numbers.

And that holds true for a basketball team as well. Just ask Antioch Matt Pelland.

Pelland took control of the game Saturday at Zion-Benton as the second half commenced. But in the third quarter, Pelland began a tear which would lead him to a 20-point, 20-rebound night in a 52-39 win over Zion-Benton.

"We worked the ball inside to Matt and he was five-for-six for the third quarter," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said.

Antioch, which hosts Fenton Jan. 19, led by two points after one quarter, 10-8 and 17-14 after two. But a 20-12 run in the third stanza extended the lead to 17 points at one juncture.

"The shooting was terrible for both teams in the first half," Dresser said. Antioch was six for 36 while Zion was seven for 26.

Pelland, in addition to his scoring punch, had 20 rebounds as Antioch dominated that category 42-25.

Jeff Becker turned in a 16 point game for Antioch.

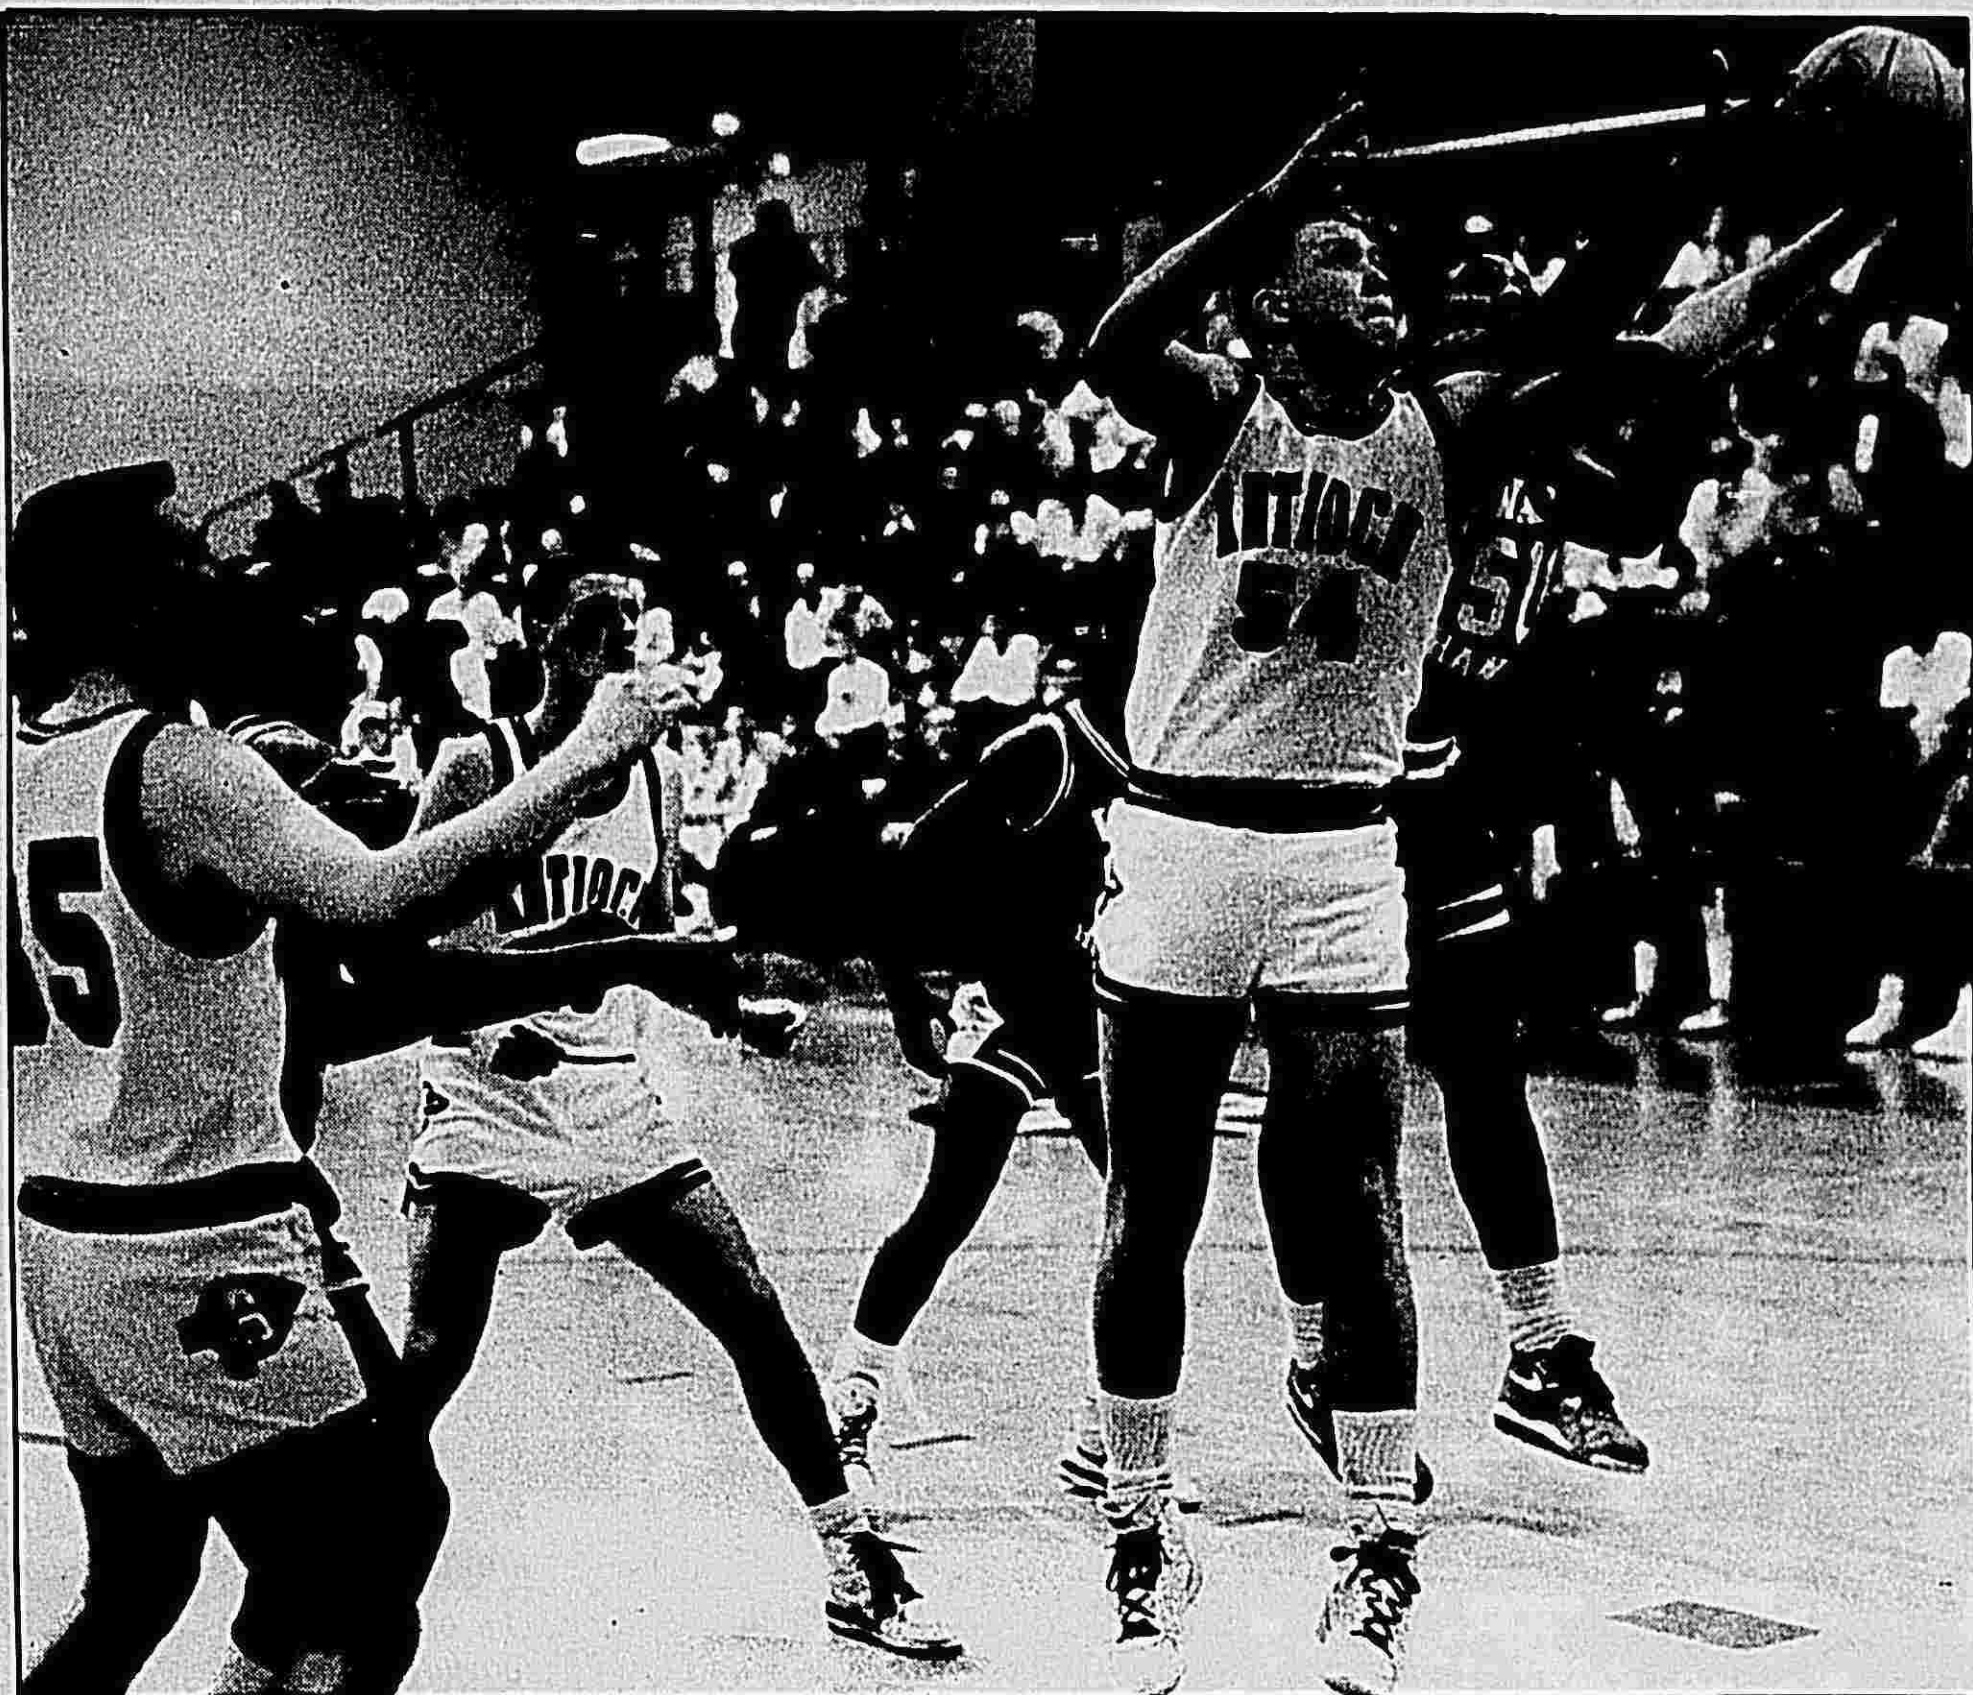

"He played a good, solid game," Dresser said.

The win improved Antioch to 5-10 overall, 3-5 in the NSC and gave the Sequoits revenge for a tough 53-47 loss against Mundelein Friday.

The game was close for three quarters but the Mustangs turned on the juices in the fourth quarter with a 20-13 run. Joe Tray had four put-back baskets in the fourth quarter. Tray led the Mustangs with 18 points.

"That just killed us," Dresser said of the offensive rebounds.

Following the win over Antioch, Mundelein used the theory of getting the basketball into the paint position makes everyone's job a little easier.

Antioch girls basketball team will be hoping a winless opponent will be the answer to ending a losing streak when the Sequoits travel to North Chicago Jan. 20.

Losses to Fenton, Libertyville and Lake Forest dropped the Sequoits to 6-6 in the north Suburban Conference, 8-11 overall after an eight game win streak.

Against Lake Forest, the Sequoits fell victim to a Scouts second half rally. Antioch led by as many as seven points in the third quarter but could not maintain it. Combined poor shooting, three-for-36, in the first and fourth quarters, did the Sequoits in.

Jannell Maki and Liz Johnson had 12 points each.

The Sequoits traveled to Niles North in hopes of breaking the loss streak Jan. 18.

Antioch fell 45-30 at Libertyville as Kristian Fletcher led Libertyville with 16 points.

"We shot real bad in the first quarter," Antioch Coach Al Tamburrino said, referring to a 14-2 Libertyville run to start the game.

Johnson and Tammy Mueller had eight points as no Antioch player reached double figures.

On the bright side, the Sequoits did play better in the second half, tying the third quarter 8-8 and winning the fourth 12-8.

In other NSC games, Mundelein topped Niles North 58-51 and North Chicago 44-35. Ashley Struggles led Mundelein with 22 points, but she was able to sit out the North Chicago game and rest a back injury.

There was no cake on the sidelines of the Warren High girls basketball team Saturday afternoon.

The cake would have been in honor of Kate Serdar's birthday.

When Serdar hit her first shot, an outside jumper, the game with Libertyville had long been decided, as the score at the time was 33-15.

"After I hit the first one, I decided, 'what the heck'," Serdar said.

Some four baskets later, Serdar gave scouts in the stands something else to consider as she finished with 10 points as Warren won handily 55-30.

Although a junior, this is not Serdar's first cup of tea on the varsity. Serdar long with Marnie Rettig, Monica Brandt and Terra Reed all were brought up to the varsity last year as sophomores.

"It was a total learning experience. Playing behind Crystal Cobb (now at Arizona State), I was able to ask her questions and it made it easier to play this year," Serdar said.

"She has been very steady for us," Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said of Serdar.

Christy Baker and Melissa Webster had 12 and 11 points, respectively in win No. 18 for the Blue Devils, 18-0, 12-0 in the NSC. A Stevenson win over Fenton Saturday all but assured Warren of at least a tie for the conference title.

Although the Blue Devils are within striking distance of a perfect season, the pressure is not building in the Warren camp.

CLC women reach best offensive show, but lose

College of Lake County's women's basketball team treated its fans to its best show on offense to date against Truman Thursday.

Paced by 24 points from Teri Huntington, the Lancers had their best scoring night of the season, tallying 66 points. But CLC's an ability to confront Truman's inside attack was the difference in a 71-66 loss.

Daphne Walker scored 33 points, 22 in the second half and Carolyn Gilmore scored 22 points to lead the Falcons.

"We just could not stop Walker. We could not match up inside," CLC Coach Don Zeman said.

CLC, which fell to 1-9, 0-2 in the Skyway Conference with the loss, took a seven point lead at 44-37 on a Huntington basket with 14:28 left.

Lancers set for Scots, Skyway leaders loom

College of Lake County's men's basketball team will have an eye toward the Skyway Conference pre-season favorite when it confronts McHenry Jan. 18 in Crystal Lake. They then host Waubesa Jan. 23.

The Lancers are coming off an opening week split in conference action, as they lost to Truman in double overtime but beat Elgin in the conference opener.

Against Truman, three CLC players scored 20 points as the home team had a balanced attack. Ryan Coskey, Corey Statham and Greg Green all scored 20. Green had five-three pointers and Coskey had four threes.

CLC trailed by six points, 39-33 at halftime, but rallied in the second half.

Even after the two teams were tied at 72 after regulation, CLC had leads in the first overtime. "We should have won in the first overtime but we must have missed six shots within five feet of the basket," CLC Coach Bruce Smith, whose team was 6-10 overall after the loss, said.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: Can Nearsightedness Be Surgically Corrected?

ANSWER: Nearsightedness can often be corrected through a surgical procedure known as radial keratotomy. Nearsighted people see distant objects poorly because the corneas of their eyes are excessively curved or the eyeballs are elongated and light rays can't focus properly on the retina. Eyeglasses and contact lenses bend these light rays for proper focus but many people don't like glasses or contacts, or can't wear them.

Radial keratotomy, known as "RK", corrects the curve in the cornea so that the light rays focus properly without glasses. It is a 20 minute operation, conducted on one eye at a time, with local anesthesia and the patient lightly asleep. Tiny incisions are made in the eye's cornea to change its curve and enable it to properly focus light on the retina. There is no bleeding and the patient can expect only minimal discomfort. No hospitalization is required.

Ryan's free throws cap dramatic Carmel rally

BRENT KILLACKKEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Proving the old cliché: "it ain't over until it's over", Carmel Corsairs defeated the Joliet Catholic Hilltoppers 41-40 in a come-from-behind effort Saturday. This was Carmel's first conference win since they played Holy Cross Dec. 12.

The Corsairs (2-4, 8-7) were behind Joliet Catholic (1-4, 4-13) 19-12 at the half.

"When we got the ball inside we just couldn't get it in the basket," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said. "We didn't take advantage of the gaps they left."

But a third quarter rally of 11 points put the Corsairs back in the game with a two-point lead coming into the final quarter. The Hilltoppers scored only two points in the third quarter.

The game, however, became dangerously close in the fourth quarter. "We had gone up by seven, but let them back in with a lapse defensively."

The factor that "iced" the game for Carmel, according to Rosberg, was two successful free-throws by senior Sean Ryan in the final minute of the game.

But, as Rosberg said, "It wasn't a matter of any one player. Every player contributed in some way."

Contributing to the team effort, Eric Maloney had a strong game for Carmel scoring 19 points; 17 of those points in the second half.

"He had a very good game," Rosberg said. Maloney sat out the first quarter because he missed a practice during the week due to illness.

Sean Ryan ended the night two-for-two with eight points.

"It's always nice to win down there," said Rosberg.

"To win on the road in the conference is a very big thing."

Carmel plays at St. Patrick Friday.

"They're talented, they're physical and they're strong," Rosberg said.

Graduates update

Two Grant High School graduates have earned letters in football at North Central College.

KURT ROUS was a linebacker for the Cardinals while JOHN MAZUR was a defensive back.

The Cardinals, College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin, finished 3-5 good for sixth place.

At Aurora University, MICHELE PAVELSKI an Antioch Community High School graduate and a Lake Villa resident, had nine rebounds against Beloit. Beloit won 77-57.

At Illinois State University, Mundelein graduate NATHAN SWEET had his best time in the 800 meter run of 1:58.72.

Also at Illinois State, North Chicago High grad JARROD COLEMAN was the leading scorer in three Redbird game and leading rebounder in four contests. Trustee's comments at hearing concern Russell Grayslake Community Park Dist. board member believes a village board member should not appear to speak for the park board. "I don't think it is right," Virginia Russell said. Russell was referring to comments Trustee Pat Carey made during a plans and subs committee meeting regarding the Poulte development and possible saving of trees. On Tuesday, Carey said she does not speak for the park district.

"I was speaking to the tree preservation ordinance because I don't think the developer was taking it seriously," Carey said. Back at the park board meeting, Russell said the park district's spokesman, John Wilson, should have been the one to comment. Park Board President Jill Koch said it was a "delicate situation" because of Carey's support for the parks. The Poulte development known as Chesapeake Farms was given a favorable recommendation but will be considered again Jan. 29. Lexington Homes, a planned 876 unit development on 283 acres from Shorewood Dr. to Rte. 83 will be before the plan commission Feb. 13, village manager Mike Ellis said. According to Grayslake Community High School Supt. Ted Van Dorn, Chesapeake Farms could generate 450 to 500 students for the high school and 700 to 800 elementary aged students. Ellis said agreements are being worked on to accommodate the school's needs.

Grayslake considering park donation plan

A revised park strategy for the purchase of land near Grayslake's Central Park was put on the table for discussion by Grayslake Mayor Marv Smith. The plan is aimed at working through village ordinances so that local property taxes would not have to fund a planned park district purchase of land owned by Laurie Epstein. "This program reaffirms the villages stand against the use of tax dollars by earmarking developer donations as an alternative funding source for the acquisition of land adjacent to Central Park. This approach will go a long way to providing Grayslake residents with a park system that includes a mix of neighborhood parks, greenway corridors and centrally located park facilities. With the use of developer donations, combined with the successful park district pursuit of other non-tax funds, the acquisition can be completed without increasing the property tax burden of our citizens and businesses," Smith said. The park district is seeking a $400,000 matching grant from the Illinois Dept. of Conservation to finance the varied project. In response to a question from resident Ray LaCroix, Smith dampened the park district's hopes that $100,000 set aside for open space could be given to the park district for the purchase. "The $100,000 was set aside for open space that we could not acquire any other way. The $100,000 was not meant to be a gift to the park district," Smith said, adding the board would have to vote to turn the $100,000 to the park district.

Wedding Show '90

The theme for this year's Wedding Show '90, sponsored by Silk 'N Haz Bridal Salon and Henry's Formal Wear, was 'Watch for the Pot of Gold at the End of the Rainbow.' Hundreds of dollars worth of gifts were given away to future brides at the show. Newest craze in color for weddings is black and gold, as shown by bride modeling wedding gown (at right) with detachable train. Participating attendants also wear black, the most popular color of the season. Over 350 guests attended the event, held at Brae Loch Country Club in Grayslake.—Photo by JoAnn Ritzwoller

On Jan. 5, Lakeland Newspapers printed a C.D. ad for American National Bank in Waukegan in the financial section. The rates that appeared on that ad were wrong. Those rates should be: 8.10 percent, 1 year; 8.25 percent, 2 years; and 8.55 percent, 3 years. Both rates for the four and five year are non-existent.

Vocational Center celebrates Jan. 21 event

The Lake County Area Vocational Center (CAVC) will host its second open house this year on Jan. 21, from 1 to 4 p.m. All Lake County junior and senior high school students are also eligible to attend the event. All of the LCAVC program areas will be open for inspection, and students and teachers will be available to speak with interested students and their parents.

At the Jan. 21 event, there will also be the first annual Initiation Ceremony of selected students into the Lake County Area Vocational Center (LCAVC).

Chapter of the National Vocational Technical Honor Society (NVTHS). The Honor Society was formed to pay tribute to those students who have consistently performed at a high level and demonstrated leadership, honesty and pride in skilled craftsmanship. All candidates must have maintained an "A" average at LCAVC and had zero absences.

"For a student to have been nominated by an LCAVC instructor, he or she must be the top of the class. We feel that membership in this society will distinguish NVTHS members from the rest of the student body," said Dick Glogovsky, LCAVC director.

"Too many times our students are snubbed because they are enrolled in vocational classes, when in actuality they are applying those same principles that the kids are learning in the classrooms back at their home high schools. One could say that the vocational students are doing more with what they are learning," added Mike Anderson, LCAVC deputy director.
